

Cut Work Hours, Maintain Wages Is Labor's Plea

Provincial Government Asked For Restoration of Salary Reductions, Extensive Public Works and Wider Moratorium Relief by Organized Labor; Betterment of Social and Economic Order is Objective

Legislative proposals of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada were placed before the provincial cabinet this morning by the British Columbia executive of the congress, headed by Percy R. Bengough, vice-president of the congress, with C. E. Herrett and R. W. Nunn, all of Vancouver.

"We present our recommendations with the full knowledge and belief that such legislation in effect would bring about a betterment of social and economic conditions, not only of the people we represent, but would be in the best interests of all the people of British Columbia," they said.

"We ask you to use your influence to discourage efforts put forward to reduce wages and salaries, and to condemn policies of economies and retrenchment as these only intensify the depression, being immediately passed on to the merchant and others whose lessened business results in more unemployment."

Creation of a six-hour working day, based on a five-day week, was one of the foremost of the recommendations, combined with a plea for unemployment insurance on a contributory basis.

Restoration of all wages cuts in the civil service was sought.

Extensive public works, with trade union wages to the workers, were urged to stimulate employment.

Tightening up of Minimum Wage Act and the Hours of Work Act, both of which are under government review, is asked.

Other recommendations were: Moratorium legislation on the lines of the Manitoba Debt Adjustment and Orderly Payment acts, seeking more protection for the unemployed home owner.

Sickness insurance.

More humane handling of single men in Dominion relief camps through necessary work and better food.

Broadening of educational opportunities rather than curtailment.

Amendment of the income tax in the lower wage brackets, with those up to $3,000 a year exempt.

PET DOG SAVES PERSONS' LIVES

London, Ont., Feb. 14.—A pet collie dog, whose barking failed to attract attention, today pulled the blankets from the bed of his master, Charles Wilson, and saved the lives of three persons, asleep in a flaming house. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and their six-week-old baby were unaware fire was sweeping through the house until the dog pulled every blanket from the bed.

FUEL OIL TAX DRIVE STARTS

Returns Due From Domestic and Commercial Consumers Says Hart

Announcement of a drive to collect delinquent fuel oil taxes in British Columbia was made by Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, this morning.

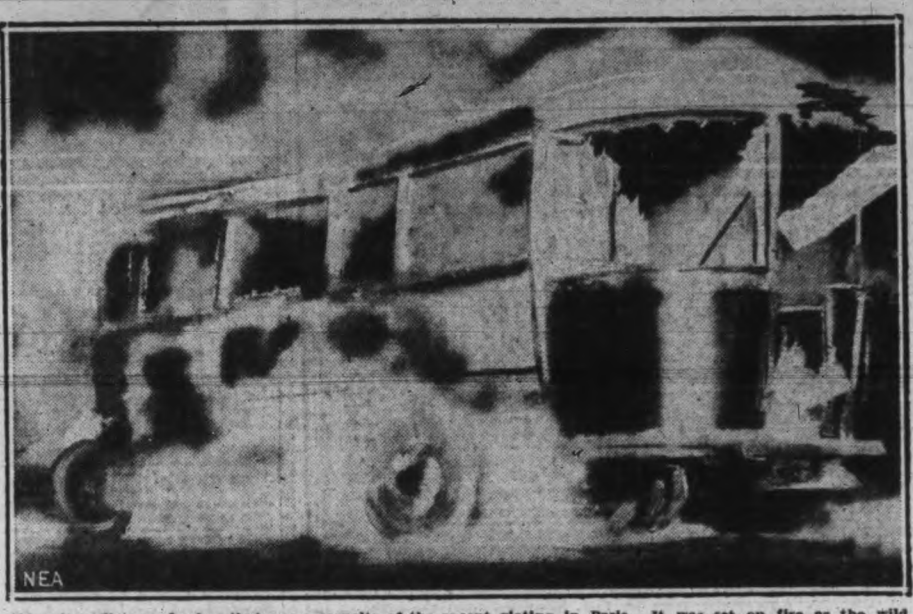

While the appeal of the provincial government to the Privy Council on the act was pending a large number of persons who have oil-burners did not make returns and became in default, it was pointed out, but since it was upheld, all charges effective since June 1, 1932, are now payable.

"As it is the intention of the government to fully enforce the provisions of the act, consumers are advised to make their returns at once," Mr. Hart stated. "Forms may be had from any provincial collector or the surveyor of taxes at Victoria. Should show consumption since June 1, 1932."

This applies not only to the large companies using fuel oil but also to the consumers in dwelling houses. Those in dwelling houses are required to make their returns on or before the fifteenth day of January, April, July and October for the preceding quarter, and other consumers are required to report only a month. In the present instance, however, those who have not paid the tax at all must

MICHAEL YOUNG PASSES AWAY

Pioneer Restaurant Keeper Succumbs at Age of 91 To-day

Michael Young, proprietor of the New England cafe for many years, passed away this morning at the residence of his son, M. L. Young, 439 Quebec Street, in his ninety-first year.

Mr. Young was born in Bavaria on May 15, 1843, and came to this city sixty-two years ago from New England. He was one of the pioneer caterers of the city, being proprietor of the New England Cafe on Government Street for many years, building up a reputation as one of the best-known restaurants in the Northwest, a reputation which it has maintained throughout the years.

He is survived by one son, M. L. Young, with whom he resided, two grandsons and two nephews.

Funeral services will be held from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. T. R. Lancaster officiating. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

TRINIDAD MONSTER GOBBLES UP CATTLE

Huilla, Reported to Be World's Greatest Amphibian Creature, Lives in Treacherous Swamps and Eats Cow for Breakfast, Makes Monkeys Tremble in Trees at Nights

Canadian Press

Port of Spain, Trinidad, Feb. 14.—And now, ladies and gentlemen, the scene shifts to the treacherous swamps of Trinidad, along the east coast of Trinidad. Here lives the world's reported greatest amphibian serpent.

Bring on the wily Cadborosaurus of Pacific coast fame. Bring on, too, the Loch Ness, Trinidad's Huilla "can take it." There's nothing doleful about this one. (She or perhaps he) is a roaring, gurgling creature that attacks man and eats livestock on the hoof.

Huilla (pronounced Wheeler) is neither a youngster nor newcomer to these parts. In fact, Huilla is reported to be more than 120 years old; is at least fifty feet long, thicker than a fat man in girth, eats whole cows and even big black bulls for breakfast or night lunch, roars like a lion and lives on both land and sea.

HAS HAD YOUNGSTERS

And, confidentially, Huilla is officially reported to have given birth to young Huilla. But apparently Mr.

Upward Movement Since Last March Shown By Labor Statistics; Mining, Logging and Manufacturing Share in Betterment; Whole of Dominion Records Improvement

British Columbia's employment index climbed from 69.7 in January, 1933, to 80.4 in January, 1934, or nearly 15 per cent, according to figures in the hands of the British Columbia Department of Labor.

With the index based on average employment during 1926 and the peak as 100 in 1929, the tables show a steady movement back to normal since "the absolute bottom" last March. The highest point, 80.2, was reached in September last year, and there has been the usual seasonal contraction since that time, but the last six months all reveal marked advances.

LED BY LUMBER

Industries sharing in the renewed employment to the greatest degree are led, of course, by logging and the manufacture of lumber products. The index on logging advanced nearly 50 per cent and on lumber manufacturing a little more than this proportion.

Mining advanced five points, textile manufacturing was up fifteen points, construction took an enormous jump from 78.6 to 124.5, employment in services was up nearly twelve points and the general manufacturing index advanced eight points.

In only three pursuits were there recessions, these being in iron and steel manufacture, communications and transportation, and they were quite small.

The employment index for the whole of Canada on January 1 stood at 88.6, an advance of ten points over the same date in 1933.

SQUIRREL PELTS USED AS MONEY

Rocky Mountain House, Alta., Feb. 14.—When shoppers go into the stores in this district to buy merchandise these days they do not ask the price in dollars and cents. They say, "How many squirrel skins?"

Squirrel skins by the thousands are pouring into the local stores and hamlets hereabouts and the supply seems unlimited. It is estimated 30,000 pelts have been shipped to Edmonton and Calgary.

Raw squirrel skins bring from twelve to fifteen cents each.

School Bill Of B.C. Close To $9,000,000

Government Pays $2,850,000, Cities and Districts the Rest; All-time High Mark Reached in Enrollment During 1932-33 Term

Despite an increase from 115,919 to 116,816 in the number of pupils receiving instructions in British Columbia schools during term-year ending last June, there was a reduction of forty-seven in the number of teachers and a drop of close to $1,300,000 in the cost of education to the Provincial Government, according to figures supplied by the Department of Education today.

The high school enrollment advanced from 18,134 to 18,552, and in the public schools from 97,785 to 98,264. Both are all-time high marks.

On the basis that there is one school child for every four persons in the province, an increase of approximately $900 in the provincial population is indicated by the figures.

A sharp decline in the per capita cost to the government is shown, with figure for 1932-33 being $21.55, against the peak of $29.52 in the previous period.

In the total registration boys outnumbered girls 59,762 to 57,864.

An unusual feature is that the percentage of the total who are high school students reached a new high of 18.8, giving further support to the theory that children of teen age are remaining in school because they cannot get jobs.

British Columbia's total education bill in all sections is given as $6,941,497.34, of which $2,849,972.02 was borne by the provincial government against $4,091,525.32 the previous year.

Fourteen New Cases This Month; Thirty Were Reported in January

Committee of Council Will Consider Epidemic To-morrow; Cases in Saanich

Consideration of recent cases of scarlet fever in the city, and possible steps toward health protection if there should be any occasion for alarm will be given at a meeting of the health committee of the City Council to-morrow morning.

While civic health authorities would make no statement this morning regarding the situation, preferring to await any decision of the committee, it was intimated there was no occasion for undue alarm although many houses are under quarantine.

During January thirty cases were reported. Since the beginning of February fourteen cases have been reported.

In some cases houses have been placed under quarantine and occupants have not observed quarantine regulations. These instances are very few, however, but health authorities will

Well informed persons expressed the opinion Italy would consider such intervention only as a last resort.

Liberal Speakers In Commons Call For Early Election Test

PAY FOR CONVICTS IS URGED BY M.P.

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—Wages for convicts in Canadian penitentiaries were proposed in the House of Commons this afternoon by Miss Agnes MacPhail, Progressive, South-west, Ont. Convicts would work at the trades, their maintenance being deducted from their wages, the balance going to them on their release and to their families.

Miss MacPhail proposed a parliamentary committee to investigate the issue in the debate yesterday which preceded the vote on the Liberal amendment. Liberals who spoke were: Mr. Ernest Lapointe, Quebec East; Hon. J. L. Macdonald, St. John's; Mr. J. L. Macdonald, Vancouver Centre. Speakers on the government side were Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, and Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce.

To the end of the discussion yesterday, Liberals continued their pleas for a general election, but were met with Dr. Manion's suggestion of co-operation in this time of national stress.

In the division yesterday evening all the Conservatives voted against the Liberal want of confidence motion.

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—Another amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, tantamount to a want of confidence motion in the government, confronted the House of Commons today. No sooner had the House voted 110 to 90 against the straight vote of confidence motion of Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, yesterday evening, than J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, proposed amendments.

Mr. Woodsworth's move may prolong the debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

Front benches on both sides joined issue in the debate yesterday which preceded the vote on the Liberal amendment. Liberals who spoke were: Mr. Ernest Lapointe, Quebec East; Hon. J. L. Macdonald, St. John's; Mr. J. L. Macdonald, Vancouver Centre. Speakers on the government side were Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, and Hon. H. H. Fighting Continues in Vienna District, But in Other Regions Government Appears to be Rapidly Gaining Upper Hand

Vienna Again Has Street Car Service

Scores of Women and Children Are Reported Among Casualties Throughout the Country

Canadian Press and Associated Press

Vienna, Feb. 14.—The state of civil war in Austria between the Socialists and the government continued serious throughout the nation today, but in outlying regions the government rapidly appeared to be gaining the upper hand.

Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss, determined to retain control of the government, declared the Socialist fight was "madness."

"One may say already," said Dr. Dollfuss, "that this undertaking has entirely failed and that the position of the federal government is stronger than ever."

Street car service, disrupted since Monday by the Socialist general strike, was resumed in Vienna today. Electric lights flashed on again.

At Linz, one of the bloodiest spots in the rebellion, the government was definitely in control.

The government carried out its threat of death sentences against the rebels when a court martial sentenced a forty-three-year-old shoemaker to be hanged.

SAYS PEOPLE WILL UNITE

Chancellor Dollfuss told the Associated Press today the Socialist attempt to overthrow the government, the ultimate result could only be to strengthen the government and further unite the people behind the forces of law and order.

"Unfortunately, the clashes of the last forty-eight hours caused many casualties," he said.

Since the army, gendarmes, the police and the Heimwehr (Fascist Home Guard) have withstood various attacks with an iron sense of duty and have shattered this criminal attempt within a short time.

"Life in Vienna and in Austria has followed its normal course in spite of isolated heavy fighting."

TRAFFIC OPERATES

"Railway traffic has been kept punctually to schedule, thanks to the excellent discipline of the Austrian railway men."

"Similarly, electric power plants and other technical establishments in Vienna and other provinces have not been forced to abandon their services."

Pacific Scientists Photograph Eclipse

At Losap, Caroline Islands, Astronomers from California Report Success During Solar Spectacle

Losap, Caroline Islands, Feb. 14.—A cloudless sky gave scientists an opportunity to observe and photograph the solar eclipse which traced a 6,000-mile arc over the Pacific Ocean today.

The Japanese scientists in the expedition to Losap Island, 1,875 miles southeast of Japan, pronounced their efforts entirely successful.

Joseph J. Condon, instructor in astronomy at the California Institute of Technology, and Dr. William Cohn, research fellow at the University of California, withheld comment pending a further check.

This spot—a low, flat, coral atoll—was selected as the only suitable point for scientific observation of the total eclipse. (Dispatches from Tokyo said for an 8 o'clock sky had permitted Japan a brief glimpse of the partial eclipse there).

The group hoped to obtain observations and photographs relating to the first problem which would aid in determining whether the corona's light is direct or reflected. This would give needed clues as to its composition.

GROUP OF SEVEN BEFORE COURT

Vancouver, Feb. 14.—Further caches of stolen goods, located in various parts of the city, have been recovered by detectives working under direction of Chief J. Cameron and his deputy, J. Murdoch.

Seven persons arrested Monday and Tuesday following the locating of a large cache of stolen goods in premises on West Broadway, were formally charged yesterday. They are: Joseph Clark, charged with retaining stolen goods; Fred Julian, Jack Sheilman, Robert Nesbitt, Teddy Cravath, Frank Wilson, John Meron, charged with breaking and entering and retaining stolen property; William Brown, arrested at the same time, was charged with vagrancy.

Police say the arrests will clear up a large number of burglaries in the Fairview district and several important shopbreaking cases. Most of the recovered goods have been identified.

Baltimore Sun Says If No Assembly Held, Nations Will Stage Unprecedented Building Contest

Canadian Press

New York, Feb. 14.—In an address at Washington in support of the "Big Navy" policy, Senator David Walsh, of the senate naval committee, yesterday said the United Kingdom was building up to the limit she is allowed by the naval disarmament treaty. That, of course, is untrue.

Britain has said only that if her disarmament proposals fail she will be forced into a naval programme to maintain her position.

The Baltimore Sun, one of the best informed newspapers in the United States, in an editorial entitled "Tragic Naval Policies," said this:

"Next year or early in 1936 there should be held a new naval conference for the purpose of revising and extending the treaty."

Native hunters fear the spot where Huilla reputedly resides and terrified shrieks of trembling monkeys often fill the night air. And no wonder. Here is how one hunterman described a Huilla discovered, he claims, in the Nariva lagoon:

"Grayish-brown in color, with a series of large white circles surrounding white dots."

The head, he added, was dark, divided by a darker streak.

It might sound a little weird, but there is one group with sufficient faith in the records to investigate them. Members of the order of loyal Huilla supporters formed a search party and traveled into the creature's feared kingdom. The expedition was loitering around the mosquito-infested swamps, in hope of greeting its quarry.

Latest word brought out from the hinterlands by native runners indicated the expeditioners were still wait-file returns for the full period of nearly twenty months.

The amount of the tax is half a cent a gallon.

Treasury officials estimate the drive will produce nearly $500,000, since the tax was figured to raise revenue of about $250,000 a year. While the act was being applied, no allowance was made for this revenue in the estimates for the last fiscal year, so that the amount will come more or less as a windfall to the treasury. On the other hand, however, the government faces a loss on the fiscal year through non-payment of succession duties, which are now under appeal and this loss will more than offset the gain from the fuel oil tax, it was stated.

CHARLES PONZI IS OUT OF JAIL

Ponzi's lawyer had arranged for him to have ninety days of freedom pending the final disposition of the government's efforts to deport him.

REPORTERS THERE

Real zero weather and a crowd of newspapermen and photographers greeted the dapper alien as he walked out of the prison gate.

Ponzi, who arrived in the United States as an Italian immigrant at the age of twenty-one, was doing a modest brokerage business in Boston when his grandiose idea of pyramid financing was born in 1919. Almost overnight he arose from obscurity to probably the most-talked-about man in the United States.

"Fifty per cent in forty-five days" became the catch-word among uninformed investors from Coast to Coast. The small savings of the laborer, the widow's mite and the spinster's meagre hoard, saved to bludgeon off the inevitable rainy-day, were turned over to Ponzi.

BIG SUMS REPORTED

The Italian claimed he was able to realize great returns through the purchase of international reply coupons taking advantage of the varying rates of exchange in the different countries of the world. And the strange part of it all was that Ponzi paid.

It was estimated between $7,000,000 and $20,000,000 passed through his hands during the height of the bubble. Then the bubble burst, but only after authorities had picked it. They closed Ponzi's office and later showed in court that he was "robbing Peter to pay Paul" and that the hundreds of persons who counted themselves Ponzi's clients when authorities intervened would receive back only a trifling percentage of the savings they had entrusted to him. Ponzi went to jail.

LIKE PIONEERS

"The women fought like old pioneers of the prairies. A government tour commander said 'they helped carry munitions and reloaded rifles of their embattled husbands and brothers through the windows of their homes.'"

"There were plenty of innocent non-combatants," said one officer, "who last spring. The upward movement was steady from then on until the end of the year when the seasonal contraction occurred."

The figures indicate, however, that British Columbia's recovery in logging has not been so marked as that in other parts of Canada. The index for logging employment more than doubled in the Dominion average and also showed an increase from December to January, while that in British Columbia showed a contraction over the end of the year.

Graphs prepared by the statisticians clearly demonstrate this climb since

NEW SETTLEMENT PLAN FOR DOMINIONS

Canadian Press

London, Feb. 14.—Empire settlement by establishment of new separate village communities in the Dominions is the basis of a scheme contained in a report issued to-day by the Empire Development and Research Committee headed by Sir Henry Page Croft. The committee has been examining the question unofficially.

The plan contained in the report would create entirely new bodies of settlers in the dominions in districts remote from settled areas. Railways would be built to reach the new settlements. The committee says it had in mind a definite area where 40,000 families could be settled at a cost of £50,000,000.

It suggests the work could be carried out best by chartered companies, with the government guaranteeing for a period of years' interests on capital subscribed by private investors.

The committee suggests also the government lend the chartered companies money without interest charges to cover cost of training settlers in England and transporting them overseas.

Austrian Forces Are Winning Over Socialists

"It is to be regretted that it could even be attempted—even for a short time—to damage Austria's economic life."

This attempt has been repulsed and Austria's path leads forward and upward.

By Wade Werner, Associated Press Foreign Staff

Vienna, Feb. 14.—Scores of women and children are unofficially reported among the casualties of Austria's civil war.

While the government is publishing no death toll details, feeling that would only add flame to the public excitement, an unofficial estimate shows between 1,000 and 1,500 persons have been killed in combat throughout the nation.

There are uncounted multitudes of injured.

It is hard to look at the shell-torn factory homes and buildings in the suburb of Floridsdorf alone without a temptation to allow at least one woman or child for every twenty male casualties there.

In Floridsdorf women fought all through the night beside their men against overwhelming numbers of government troops while shells screamed and smashed their homes into powder.

SCHOOLS CLOSED

Indications the government itself recognizes the danger to children were seen in a government decree, issued last night, closing all Austrian schools indefinitely and advice issued yesterday to keep children off the streets.

Although the socialist quarters in Vienna were momentarily captured, to-day, after a short lull, the battle was resumed through streets still littered with the dead.

At a wholesale flag had been raised over the building, only to be greeted with savage gunfire. Government forces retaliated by killing outright every socialist within reach.

Canadian Press and Associated Press

London, Feb. 14.—Great Britain's influence that Austria's independence be preserved will probably be brought to the personal attention of Chancellor Hitler of Germany within a week, it was said to-day at the Foreign Office.

Anthony Eden, Lord Privy Seal, will leave shortly for a tour of European capitals and it was pointed out his trip affords a timely opportunity to "justify" further the British policy regarding Austria in Paris and Rome, as well as Berlin.

It was announced he would probably visit Paris first. Reports Mr. Eden would reach Berlin Monday, where he would see Chancellor Hitler personally.

Authoritative quarters expect the end discussions may have an important bearing on the fate of the nation on the Rhine.

SCARLET FEVER IN CITY HOMES

prosecute where this occurs as it creates a danger to everyone whom the family quarantined contacts.

When questioned this morning over the prevalence of the disease, Dr. Richard Felton, City Health Officer, stated he had nothing to say at present, as he was awaiting the outcome of the health committee session to-morrow.

Approximately twenty-four cases are under quarantine in Saanich, where Dr. David Berman, health officer, reports the epidemic is mild. These cases are practically all restricted to the urban wards, where, for some years, there have been complaints regarding inadequate sewerage facilities.

Dr. Berman stated the municipality was entirely free of the fever three weeks before the Christmas holidays, all the present cases having been contracted during or immediately after the vacation period.

Recently parents of pupils attending McKinnon Avenue school in Saanich petitioned the school board to close the school. An accompanying report from the health officer, however, allayed fears of the trustees, as it stated there was no danger in the schools and the points of contact were on the streets and not in the institution.

Children in the schools are being examined regularly and any reported cases are being thoroughly investigated, Dr. Berman stated.

Liberal Speakers in Commons Call For Early Election Test

tion—which if passed would have forced an election. Two western farmers voted with the government against the motion—A. M. Carmichael, Progressive; Kindersley, Saska and Donald Kennedy, U.F.A., Peace River. The Liberals were just as solid in support and were joined by the following Independents and members of the Oinger Group: Neil, Comox-Alberta; Spencer, Battle River; Gardiner, Acadia; Miss MacPhail, Southeast Grey; Woodworth, Winnipeg North Centre; Heaps, Winnipeg North; MacInnis, Vancouver South; Garland, Bow River; Lucas, Camrose; Mitchell, Hamilton East, and Luckovich, Vegreville, Alta.

STEPS NOT TAKEN

The Woodworth amendment expresses regret the government had not taken steps necessary to "deal adequately with unemployment" and "put the agricultural industry on a basis that will insure the farmer a decent standard of living."

CONFIDENCE LOST

Hon. Ernest Ralston, former Minister of Justice, starting the debate yesterday afternoon, lost no time in striking fire. There was no confidence in Canada in the Bennett government, said Mr. Ralston, which was in marked contrast to the feeling in the United States for the Roosevelt administration.

The Canadian ship of state does not move," continued Mr. Ralston. "Non-sense," shouted a Conservative. "Who says that? He must not be intelligent. This Canadian ship of state does not move."

Mr. Woodworth, moving his amendment, declared the position of a third group in the House was somewhat difficult. In voting want of confidence in the government, his group wished also to express no confidence in the official opposition, and that was the reason for the sub-amendment which recently had been ruled out of order.

Crowded galleries witnessed the first major test of parliamentary strength this season.

states does not move. The engine at times makes some noise, but apparently it cannot carry any steam."

The greatest force behind the government was "the terror of dissolution," said Mr. Lapointe.

"The Prime Minister has lost the confidence of the country largely because of his unredeemed pledges, his broken promises and the facility with which those promises were repudiated," said Mr. Lapointe. He would not repeat the promises of the government, but there was a similarity with the manner the Prime Minister had emphasized them, and the way Herr Hitler spoke to the people of Germany. The Prime Minister had said he would "do it or perish in the attempt," stated Mr. Lapointe. Hitler, on the eve of the so-called election in Germany, had said: "If I fall, hang me to the gallows," said Mr. Lapointe.

"The public distrust which is shown everywhere in the country is largely due to the failure of all of the policies which have been initiated and have almost ruined our trade and made our agriculture destitute," he declared.

Mr. Lapointe was also anxious to know from the Prime Minister where the country stood with respect to the Dominion's guarantees on the wheat market, and with respect to guaranteeing the railways and other corporations. "We want light during this session," he declared.

MANION SPEAKS

Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways, said the House had been in session over two weeks listening to "a so-called debate" in which practically all the speakers were of the official opposition. So far there had been eight government speakers, eight from the Progressive group and twenty-eight Liberal speakers.

"I have been in the House for nineteen sessions," said Dr. Manion, "and this has been the dulllest, most destructive and most useless debate I have ever heard."

Dr. Manion discussed speeches made recently in his riding (Fort William) by Hon. Ian Mackenzie and Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Liberal, Melville, Sask.

RAILWAY OPERATIONS

Charges made by Mr. Mackenzie that the government was trying to smother the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways were denied by Dr. Manion. Part of the railway bill of last year definitely stated there would be no amalgamation.

The member for Vancouver had also been quoted as accusing the government of a gross breach of faith toward returned soldiers. Dr. Manion continued.

"There has been no breach of faith by this government," he declared, "nor by the preceding government."

Speaking of Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Dr. Manion said:

"We have had no co-operation from him. He has not only refused to help us, but he has refused to let us, as Canadians, stand shoulder to shoulder in an effort to put this country back on its proper track."

"This is no time for demagoguism, but for leadership," he said, "and after the leadership of this government carries this country back, as it will, to normal times then we will correct other evils."

COL. RALSTON SPEAKS

Hon. J. L. Ralston, Liberal, Yarmouth-Shelburne, N.S., said Dr. Manion had expressed satisfaction in a drop in imports from the United States. Col. Ralston did not think that a matter for congratulation. Some 65 per cent of the imports from the United States was made up of materials used in production in Canada, and a falling off meant a similar falling off in industrial activity in the Dominion.

Without attempting to be "balephorous," Col. Ralston said he was confident that when the Minister of Railways, Mr. Manion, was asked to state what he thought of the President Roosevelt's statement that the United States was not going to be a party to the Locarno Conference, he would say that the United States was not going to be a party to the Locarno Conference.

and the United Kingdom, and for all those influences that are helping Canada in spite of the government."

"Notwithstanding all the handicaps under which the government has placed the people, Canada is coming through—not because of what the government has done, but in spite of it," declared the former Minister of Defence.

"If the last few years have proved anything, they have proved Canada is sound as the rock," Col. Ralston concluded. "A country that could weather the last few years under the government which sits opposite, has no fear for the future."

MACKENZIE SPEAKS

Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Liberal, Vancouver Centre, urged writing down of public and private indebtedness and said Canada could never climb back to normal times without it. On this important subject, the government's record was "characterized by superlative ineptitude," he said.

With a reference to the C.C.F. leader as a "wild-eyed Socialist," Mr. Mackenzie said there were four Socialists in the British Columbia Legislature thirty years ago, and to-day there were seven. At that rate, it would be a very long time before that group would get into office.

Mr. Mackenzie said that when the pensions legislation was introduced, he went through committee for veterans was snubbed among the members had been promised by a promise that the new board of pensions commissioners would include the members of the pensions tribunal then in existence. That promise had not been kept, and at Port William he had accused the government of a breach of faith, and I repeat it here to-night," he added.

Both Prime Minister Bennett and Hon. Murray MacLaren, Minister of Pensions, denied any such undertaking had been given.

Mr. Mackenzie declared such had been the understanding of every member of the committee representing returned soldiers, and that understanding which was approved by the House.

STEVEN SPEAKS

Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, went into a long defence of the government's trade policies, insisting it had not raised taxes to the extent the Liberals asked the people to believe.

At the same time, the trade minister defended the Winnipeg Wheat Pool activities of John I. McFarland, head of the central selling agency of the prairie pool, whose operations were backed by Dominion credit. Without his hedging operations, the wheat market would have collapsed, and so far, not a dollar of public money had been spent, said Mr. Stevens.

"The government is not directly or indirectly gambling in wheat," said Mr. Stevens. "It was not true the government had lost $30,000,000 in wheat. The government had merely stood behind John I. McFarland, who had been chosen by the Wheat Pools as head of their central selling agency in taking care of the futures on the Winnipeg wheat market."

Every future contract represented actual wheat, some of it in the future was not gambling, although in some cases it might be speculating. Members had demanded information on the operations of Mr. McFarland, said the minister, but if the government disclosed its hand in the matter it would ruin the wheat market and destroy the value of its operations.

WOODSWORTH'S POSITION

Mr. Woodworth, moving his amendment, declared the position of a third group in the House was somewhat difficult. In voting want of confidence in the government, his group wished also to express no confidence in the official opposition, and that was the reason for the sub-amendment which recently had been ruled out of order.

Crowded galleries witnessed the first major test of parliamentary strength this season.

PENSIONS TO BE RESTORED

Bennett Promises Aid for War Veterans Whose Cases Not Heard

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—The intention of the government to restore all ex-soldier pensions which have been discontinued without a hearing was made known to the House of Commons yesterday evening by Prime Minister Bennett. Whether legislation would be necessary or not he had not been able to ascertain as yet, the Prime Minister said, but steps would be taken to achieve that end by whatever means necessary. Earlier in the day, during a speech by Hon. J. L. Ralston, Liberal, Vancouver Centre, demanded the 20,000 outstanding investigations of marriage cases should be reviewed by a committee headed by the Minister of Pensions rather than by the pension board.

SECOND MARRIAGES

The men affected are chiefly those who have married a second time and received allowances for their children without producing proof of the death of their first wives. Col. Ralston claimed the onus should be on the authorities to prove the marriages invalid. Mr. Bennett did not see how the decision of the board could be overruled without an amendment to the act. Later he announced the government's intention to restore the pensions.

NEW OFFICIAL STUDIES DUTIES

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—Major Molton F. Gregg, V.C., M.C. and bar, newly named sergeant-at-arms of the House of Commons, is expected to take over his duties this week. The new parliamentary official, whose appointment has drawn the plaudits of ex-service men from the Atlantic to the Pacific, has already received from Dr. Arthur Beauchamp, clerk of the House of Commons, some insight into his duties.

FOUR-YEAR SENTENCE

London, Feb. 14.—Convicted at the Old Bailey yesterday on three charges of corruption and also of conspiracy to pervert the course of justice, Captain Eric Miles of the London Salvage Corps yesterday was sentenced to four years' penal servitude. The charges were an outcome of the trial of Leopold Harris, formerly prominent fire assessor, sentenced to fourteen years' imprisonment recently for arson. Captain Miles for many years headed the corps which accompanied the London fire brigades to fires in business establishments, saving as much property as possible.

NO JAIL TERMS IN DEBT CASES

Old Rule Is To Be Wiped Off Statutes of Manitoba

Winnipeg, Feb. 14.—The old order of jail commitment for failure to pay is to be wiped off the Manitoba statutes. Hon. W. J. Major, Attorney-General, told members of the Manitoba Legislature yesterday. He was explaining a bill to revise the County Court Act.

Changes in garnishment procedure would also be made, he explained. Hereafter a creditor would have to get a judgment for his claim before he could attach the wages or salary of a debtor. Under the new act a court order may be issued depriving a debtor of his legal exemptions in case he fails to obey a judgment summons or an order for payment issued by the court. Jurisdiction of the County Court is to be extended to include actions for slander, provided the damages claimed are not in excess of $500.

UNION CABINET FOR ALBERTA

Conservative Leader Suggests Parties Join in Coalition Ministry

Edmonton, Feb. 14.—Formation of a union government in Alberta was urged by D. M. Duggan, leader of the Alberta Conservative party, when speaking in the Legislature yesterday during the debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

Declaring the Conservatives were not in entire agreement with the Liberal amendment of non-confidence moved by W. R. Howson on Monday, Mr. Duggan submitted a further amendment. This stated, however, that the government had lost the confidence of the Assembly and the electors of the province and should therefore resign. Mr. Duggan said the best interests of the province could not be served by a government representing only one class.

FRANK ISOLATION

Socialist propaganda had become rampant and Alberta's position among the provinces of Canada soon would become one of isolation, he said. Declaring the Conservatives stood ready to sink party differences and join hands with all who desired to preserve the integrity of the province, Mr. Duggan asked the "leaders of the other groups, including the government, if they were prepared to do likewise. Mr. Duggan emphasized the need of a programme of reconstruction in view of conditions.

"We have taxed our people far beyond their present paying ability," he said. "Our only hope lies in a plan for the reconstruction of our basic industry and the development of diversified industry."

LOAN QUESTION NOT ANSWERED

Premier Bennett Declines to Give Commons Information on C.P.R.

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—A question bearing on the $60,000,000 guarantee by the government to the Canadian Pacific Railway went unanswered when it was dropped as "improper" from the order paper of the House of Commons Monday afternoon. The question was: "To what extent was the Canadian Pacific Railway indebted to the Bank of Montreal for loans or advances made by the bank to the company at the time (a) when the Canadian Pacific Railway Company requested the government to guarantee a loan of $60,000,000; (b) of the time of the passing of the order-in-council which actually guaranteed the said loan?" C. G. Power, Liberal, Quebec South, asked. The Prime Minister thought the question was improper. "I am bound to say," he said, "that with respect to the private business of the railway company and the bank, this question is not informed except in the course of conversations in a general sort of way when matters are under consideration."

William T. Jerome Dies In New York

New York, Feb. 14.—William Travers Jerome, crusading arch-foe of Tammany Hall for nearly half a century and the precursor of Harry K. Thaw, died of pneumonia at his town house yesterday. The seventy-four-year-old veteran of anti-gambling and anti-vice campaigns, dubbed "Mr. Carry Nation" by his opponents while he was Manhattan's fighting district attorney from 1902 to 1910, had been ill two weeks.

Warden of Jail At Walla Walla, Wash., Denies Reports

Walla Walla, Wash., Feb. 14.—Vigorous denial of charges attributed here to former prison officers on the coast, that the bloody Lincoln Birthday riot at the Washington state penitentiary here started because prisoners were dissatisfied with food they had been getting, was given yesterday evening by Warden J. M. McCauley. McCauley offered to allow newspapermen to interview prisoners to get from them their expression on the prison bill of fare.

"I interviewed the rioters and they all declared they had no kick as to food or treatment," McCauley said. "They said they received the best treatment they had ever had, and more of a square deal than they ever had. They declared they had too long sentences and wanted to make it out."

"I am convinced there was nothing back of the riot except that they wanted freedom. They understand that all are treated alike as long as they behave themselves."

In the riot Monday a guard and eight convicts lost their lives.

BOYCOTT URGED

San Francisco, Feb. 14 (Canadian Press).—Samuel Untermyer, noted attorney and national president of the American League for the Defence of Jewish Rights, in a speech at the Civic Auditorium here yesterday evening, advocated the use of the boycott against the Hitler regime on account of what he termed "the unbelievable crimes against humanity that are being perpetrated by these savages." Mr. Untermyer spoke on "Religious Tolerance" under auspices of civic, industrial and religious groups of San Francisco.

Reforms Committee Drafts Scale and Government Action Expected

Canton, China, Feb. 14.—Hereafter both foreign and Chinese physicians practicing medicine in Canton may not charge more than one dollar per consultation, and only forty cents for subsequent consultations, according to a new law framed by the political reforms committee, and which it is expected certain will be mandated by the provincial government. The political reforms committee says that while the earning power and living standards of the people have been declining, physicians have waxed rich and that this must stop. Chinese doctors who violate the new scale of charges will be debarred from practice and foreign doctors will be deported. Fees for minor operations may not exceed ten dollars and for major operations one hundred dollars will be the top figure. X-ray pictures must be taken for four dollars and midwifery service will be charged at not more than three dollars per case.

WHEN AFGHANISTAN LOST KING

Mohammed Nadir Shah, King of Afghanistan, had just been shot by an assassin when the above picture was taken. He was held in the arms of a member of his staff after the attack in the gardens of Bilkis Palace, Kabul, made while he was addressing a gathering of students. Soon he died. The picture, made by a member of the king's entourage, was smuggled from Afghanistan through secret channels.

Rejuvenation of Aged Woman Is Reported

Mrs. Mary Elliott, 75, of Beaverton, Ont., Cuts Third Set of Teeth; Recovers Sight

Beaverton, Ont., Feb. 14.—The strange rejuvenation of seventy-five-year-old Mrs. Mary Anne Elliott, whose grey hair is darkening and who is cutting a third set of teeth, reached a third and more thrilling stage yesterday for the aged woman. "I can see," she exclaimed to an interviewer. She has been practically blind for three years.

Two weeks ago Mrs. Elliott was unable to recognize a neighbor who called on her. She had smiled sadly in describing how she had cut eleven teeth and discarded the set of false teeth she had used for years. "Oh, I can see now," she cried excitedly to-day. "One eye is pretty clear now and it seems as though the film is passing from the other one. I know now my hair is becoming darker," she added, pulling a strand in front of her eyes.

TOUR OF TOWN

Not a little excited about the whole business of growing younger, Mrs. Elliott has started to plan what she will do when the weather becomes milder. "First of all," she said, "I'm going uptown as soon as the side walks are clear of snow. I'll walk, of course." Cutting teeth was particularly unpleasant for Mrs. Elliott. "I wondered for a long time what made my mouth so sore," she explained. "Finally the gums became so sore I could not wear my false teeth, and of course the new ones came in. I feel better than I have in years."

BARON STRABOLGI CALLED BY DEATH

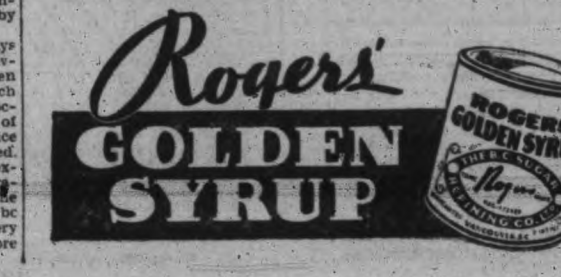

London, Feb. 14.—Late Commander J. M. Kenworthy, former member of the House of Commons, succeeds to the barony on the death of his father, the Ninth Baron Strabolgi, Monday at West Winch, King's Lynn. Lady Strabolgi, widow of the Ninth Baron, was recently sentenced to three months' imprisonment for attempted fraud and conspiracy. A native of Sacramento, Calif., she has since lodged an appeal. The Ninth Baron Strabolgi was eighty.

Teacher In Politics Encounters Obstacle

Canadian Press
Regina, Feb. 14.—M. J. Coldwell, leader of the Farmer-Labor Party and principal of the Thompson School, to-day had been refused leave of absence of three months by the Regina public school board. Mr. Coldwell asked for leave, to start April 1, to engage in the provincial political campaign. The board based its refusal on regulations governing leaves of absence, passed in May, 1930. In discussion on the request, both James Grassick, M.P.P., and C. V. Gladwell remarked they had received complaints from ratepayers because of the increasing political activity of Mr. Coldwell. St. Luke's, Cedar Hill, Boy Scout Troop met Monday. Winston Silver was selected by the troop's "court of honor" to fill the position of troop leader. The boys showed great enthusiasm over a lively game of "duster hockey."

Of the two patrols, the Pheasants, led by P.L. Bernard Silver and his second, M. Biscenden, defeated the Owls, led by P.L. Frank Wells and his second, Bishop, by a very slight margin when the evening's marks were totaled and considered by Scoutmaster Salmon. A church parade to St. Luke's United Church, Mt. Tolmie, was arranged for Sunday.

"GLITTERING GENERALITIES"

"Mr. R. B. Bennett in his speeches has the faculty of dealing in plain facts. He does not resort to glittering generalities. There are some who say that his speeches are too outright. The reason for that is that he does not traffic in half-baked ideas. He only talks about what he knows. He believes that there is virtue in the plain declaration of facts, and in this respect his utterances in and out of Parliament are sometimes in vivid contrast to the glib patter of theorists dealing with public events and enunciating their conceptions of the form which government should take."—An extract from an editorial in the morning paper.

There is no disposition to discuss what is meant by "glittering generalities." But a news item from Ottawa came over the Canadian Press wires yesterday which would seem to have some sort of bearing on the claim which is made for the Prime Minister for his "faculty of dealing in plain facts." We quote it in full:

A question bearing on the $60,000,000 guarantee by the government to the Canadian Pacific Railway went unanswered and was dropped as "improper" from the order paper of the House of Commons. "To what extent was the Canadian Pacific Railway indebted to the Bank of Montreal for loans or advances made by the said bank to the company at the time (a) when the Canadian Pacific Railway Company requested the government to guarantee a loan of $60,000,000; (b) at the time of the passing of the order-in-council which actually guaranteed the said loan?" C. G. Power (Liberal, Quebec South) asked.

The Prime Minister thought the question was improper. "I am bound to say," he said, "that with respect to the private business of the railway company and the bank, this government is not informed except in the course of conversations in a general sort of way, when matters are under consideration." Also in this morning's issue of The Colonist we are told that some sections of the press of the country, "probably for party political reasons, have interpreted a recent speech in Parliament by Mr. R. B. Bennett as an intimation that the government will not hold a general election during the present year. The Prime Minister gave no such intimation. His statement on the subject did not disclose the government's intention. What he said was that the business people of the country were not favorable to an election at this time as they were anxious to grapple with their problems undisturbed. He said, moreover, that the Conservative party and the government, regarded it as a great pleasure and a proud privilege to have served Canada in these hours and days, and if the elections are not grateful, and I have every reason to believe that they will be when the appropriate time comes, we are content because we have had the great privilege of serving the people of Canada."

If Premier Bennett has been advised that "the business people of the country" do not want an election, surely he, as the head of the government of Canada, should let the Canadian people, in whose employ he is, know who these "business people" are. Administering the affairs of this Dominion in these trying times, we agree, does not adapt itself to the employment of "glittering generalities" in Parliament; but it does call for some constructive proposal for the solution of our economic difficulties.

After all, the Canadian taxpayers are behind—they may not know it—the loan to a great, efficient and private transportation company. But $60,000,000 represents nearly six dollars per capita. Why, then, should Premier Bennett consider Mr. Power's question improper?

MR. ROOSEVELT WANTS TO KNOW

The cancellation by President Roosevelt of all domestic air mail contracts seems to have caused more than an unusual stir in Washington and throughout the United States. One correspondent says that the chief executive has kicked a billion-dollar aviation industry down the White House steps—kicked it down "in disgrace." All of which means that the administration is satisfied that millions of dollars have been taken by the companies involved, called the "air mail trust," to which they were not entitled. The sequel is to be a searching inquiry. Here is the situation in brief:

The United States army corps is prepared to take over the entire air mail service on February 19. Contracts of all twelve domestic air mail operators have been cancelled on suspicion of fraud and collusion in granting the contracts during the Hoover administration.

The companies deny they were parties to any collusion and demand new hearings. They will resist cancellation of their $20,000,000 contracts. Evidence accumulated by dictaphone and by federal detectives is to be presented at the expected trial of high officials of aviation companies and former government officials.

Colonel Charles Lindbergh, technical adviser to the Transcontinental and Western Airways, one of the companies whose air mail contract was cancelled, has protested by wire to President Roosevelt that "the condemnation of commercial aviation by cancellation of all air mail contracts and the use of the army on commercial air lines will unnecessarily and greatly damage all American aviation." His telegram added that "your order of cancellation of all air mail contracts condemns the largest portion of our commercial aviation without a just trial," and "your present action does not discriminate between innocence and guilt and places no premium on honest business."

This protest from the man who first flew solo from North America to Europe without a halt, still more or less the hero of the air in the United States, did not seem to make very much impression upon Mr. Roosevelt or the members of his administration. Indeed, we are told that it is regarded as "propaganda." In other words, the President seems to be of the opinion that the country has been "done" by the "air mail trust" and he is determined to put an end to such exploitation.

HISTORY REPEATING ITSELF

The streets of Paris—and they are the most beautiful and romantic to look at in all of Europe—just a day or so ago were the home of a mob—a mob whose tradition goes back for centuries, a mob which has changed dynasties, altered the destinies of nations and changed the course of world history.

This mob dates back to the middle ages, when factions of rival claimants to royal power scuffled and fought along the muddy alleys by the Seine. It has been repressed over and over again, so that people have forgotten it, and a visitor to what has been deservedly called the intellectual centre of Continental Europe never dreams of its existence. But it is always there; yet it is always uncertain when it will arise to the surface. A little thing, comparatively speaking, can bring it up. In 1789 the French government was unable to balance its budget. Out of the ensuing deliberations came confusion, and in the confusion the tocsin was sounded; and the mob swept up from nowhere, to tear down the Bastille, roll a king's head in the dirt, turn raw democracy loose on a startled world, set off a ferment that is still working—and to subside, finally, only before Napoleon's famous whiff of grapeshot.

It rose again in 1830, and again in 1848, and again in 1871. It has fought with paving stones and pikes, with clubs and with rifles. It has ruled all of France and it has set Europe shuddering. Because of it the guillotine has clanked, and soldiers have killed one another in Spain and Italy and on the plains before Moscow. Forever repressed, it is forever arising anew.

In the broad and magnificent Place de la Concorde, where the mob of a few days ago battled the troops, Louis XVI lost his head—and Danton, and Marie Antoinette, and Charlotte Corday, and many others. And as the barricades went up the other day, and all of France rocked with turmoil, the spectre of the unaccountable once more leered at Europe. The mob of Paris had come to the surface again.

SNOWDEN AND LOCARNO

Viscount Snowden, Britain's first Labor Chancellor of the Exchequer, emphasized a most important point concerning the Locarno Treaty in a notable article recently, which gives his pronouncement forceful prominence.

"The condition of Britain's acceptance of the serious obligations under the Treaty," Viscount Snowden writes, "is that, in the meantime, the heavily armed powers would undertake a large measure of disarmament. This condition has not been fulfilled, and we should be morally justified in withdrawing from our undertaking. Then the former Chancellor of the Exchequer elaborates his point as follows:

It is the duty of the Government to tell its co-signatories to the Locarno Treaty that this nation cannot support it if either of them dishonors its part of the pact by maintaining or increasing its armaments and so making us in part responsible for the disastrous consequences of policies in which we have no share.

I am not suggesting isolation, but I am maintaining that when international agreements have been entered into every party shall honestly pursue a policy which will reduce to a minimum the possibilities of war.

The policy of drift permitted by successive governments since the Versailles Treaty is now bringing its inevitable results. It is responsible for the position in Germany. Nothing will save Europe now but a determined and courageous effort to deal justly with admitted grievances. Continued hesitation and delay will bring disaster. Pettifogging concessions will settle nothing.

If this lead is not given there is only one alternative for Great Britain. We cannot remain relatively unarmed among powerful armed nations. Our former geographical security is gone. For all practical purposes we are now a continental country. If we are driven to secure ourselves by increasing our armaments, it will be a terrible alternative. All hopes of peace must then be abandoned.

Viscount Snowden finishes his article with the statement that Great Britain's foreign policy should be one of friendship toward all. It should put forward a bold scheme of disarmament and stand by it. It should insist that the pledges given to Germany should be redeemed in no grudging spirit. In other words, he implies that Great Britain should declare she is no longer willing to fight other nations' battles when they are pursuing policies which would seem to render war inevitable.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

APPRAISING WOODROW WILSON
 The Washington Post

Those to whom the memory of Wilson is as a green bay tree wait, with philosophical patience for that day perhaps not so far distant, when peoples of all the world will realize that they can not live isolated behind barriers which are reared higher and higher each year. We have swung far away from the Wilson concept of international relations. It is yet to be demonstrated that in the process we have made the world, or any part of it, a happier or finer dwelling-place.

PROTECTING THE CRIMINAL
 The San Francisco Chronicle

One of the most important of the proposals for reform of judicial procedure brought forward is that one to abolish the present immunity provision by which an accused person need not testify himself unless he chooses. This immunity provision is one of the greatest stumbling-blocks in the administration of justice in this country. It is a fossil remaining from a time when political prisoners needed protection from kings. It has no justification at the present. It does no good to anyone except criminals who wish to escape justice. It is a ridiculous protection to give a guilty criminal. It is not needed by the innocent.

ROOSEVELT AND THE PEOPLE
 The Christian Science Monitor

The real fact is that in the present discussion of monetary problems the old-time, academic arguments do not touch the people. If John Law swindled a nation with his South Sea bubble, how was he worse than the financier who helped Insull, Krueger, the Fox interests, the speculative builders in our big cities to put over their rackets? The difference is that when exposed and overthrown, Law did not have the effrontery to pose, nevertheless, as the only champion of honest money. President Roosevelt, in remaining deaf to the protests of high finance, is winning the confidence of the nation as a whole.

A THOUGHT

Be ye mindful always of his covenant, the word which he commanded to a thousand generations.—I Chronicles xvi 15.
 Law should be like death, which spurs no one.—Montesquieu.

Loose Ends

A quaint gentleman in a blue toga—a jolly prospect over there—a plan to keep the emancipated Americans from thinking too much—a Valentine for Mr. Pudbury—and one for Miss Snipe.

By H. B. W.

CHARMING CHAP

HERMANN WILHELM GOERING, Premier of Prussia and only next to Hitler himself in ruling Germany, must be a charming fellow, and quaint. His habit is to dress himself in a blue velvet robe fashioned like a Roman toga, and sit at his desk with a trained lion cub sitting at his side to complete the flavor of imperial majesty. Delightful to the eye.

But this is just the humorous side of what has unquestionably become the mass insanity of the whole continent of Europe. A fellow who has been living over there writes in The New Republic that at least twice a week in every neighborhood of every city in Germany some distinguished or undistinguished soldier lectures to crowded audiences about the approaching war and instructs civilians how to prepare for it, how to use gas masks and run for cover in basements. And everybody cheers.

Not only in Germany, but all over the continent, people take it for granted now that the war is just a short way off. Everybody is ready for it. Nobody is doing anything about preventing it. It is accepted as a natural and, in most places, as a splendid thing. Merrily they march to the shambles, having recently refused to pay the debts of the last war.

European historians are convinced that the highly-civilized inhabitants of Mexico were all insane with a serious blood lust. What will future historians say of Europe, which has had over five centuries of civilization and nearly fifteen centuries of Christianity, and yet is eagerly preparing for a blood-letting such as the poor Mexicans never imagined in their wildest dreams? What is any sane man to say about a continent where crackpot dictators can lead millions of grown-up men and women like children following the piper of Hamelin, where vast populations are getting ready to hide from gas like rats, in cellars, where one of the chief statesmen of the time sits in a blue toga with a lion cub at his side, playing at being a Roman Emperor?

But when the time comes you will find, as usual, that the war will not be fought to satisfy these ancient tribal hates and suspicions, not to satisfy the insanity of a whole continent, but for sacred and holy causes, for high principles, for the salvation of the world—just like the last one. And, as before, they will invite us over to the party if we bring our own lunch.

LEISURE
 NOW THAT the United States is going in seriously for the curtailment of working hours, the problem of what to do with leisure time threatens to become acute. Learned committees have been considering the problems and are making reports to the government. Experts have been devising ways and means of keeping the ordinary man occupied when he is not working. Psychologists have been making deep studies of the effect of leisure on men's immortal souls.

This is all very scientific and, as you would expect, very stupid. It is stupid because if a man's leisure is to be organized and arranged for him, he might just as well remain at work. When he is compelled, or at least lured, to do certain things while he is not actually at work, his spare time ceases to be leisure and becomes working time. In a sense, though, perhaps the experts are right, for it is certain that most of the people of the world are not capable of leisure and don't understand it. They degenerate if they just sit still, because the old habit of thought has died out in the world.

Dr. Raymond D. Fosdick, the eminent American preacher, has said something rather wise on the subject to the experts. He said: "It ought not to be assumed that a person doing nothing is wasting his time" and "leisure has legitimate part in the art of living."

That is it precisely. What the world needs is more active and systematic loafing. Instead of feverish bridge games, jag-wag puzzles or driving madly about the country to kill time. What they will have to teach the emancipated Americans is the art of just sitting still and contemplating things—an art held in high esteem in other civilizations but so forgotten in ours that the very suggestion of it seems somehow profane.

If every emancipated American would sit down for even five minutes without a radio, a book or a companion, and think about things, the United States would achieve a sudden advance in intelligence such as the world has never witnessed. But I don't expect it to happen. The experts and the psychologists will organize American leisure. They will provide outlets for the emancipated citizen's energies. They will give him no chance to contemplate himself, to realize with horror what he is like. They will give him the plenty of loopholes to escape from the horrible possibility of thought. The average man, as usual, will work hard in the comic belief that he is idling and there will be no more leisure than there is now.

VALENTINES

THIS IS St. Valentine's Day and the anniversary is being observed about here in a big way. For days the little girl next door has been making valentines. I should judge that she has made at least twenty-five, of a simple and chaste design. She made them by sitting on the kitchen floor with all the odd pieces of note paper she could collect and drawing hearts with the aid of a heart-shaped cookie cutter. For ordinary people like me, a simple heart, cut out of white note paper—a little anemic and bloodless—is quite good enough. For special people like Armand and Barbara in Vancouver the white hearts are daubed with a little red paint and sentiments of affection are written on them; written, that is to say, in the curious scrawl which is the only alphabet that the little girl next door knows yet—true lovers' messages which no outsider can understand. It is highly doubtful, indeed, that Armand and Barbara will understand them either, since they read only English.

But the business of Mr. Pudbury and Miss Snipe is more serious. For Mr. Pudbury the little girl next door decided to make a special humorous valentine. After long thought, and probably inspired secretly by her wicked uncle, she cut out of a magazine a picture of a braying donkey and pasted it on one of her hearts and got her father to print the words, "You Are My Valentine," across it in large letters. That, she thought, would fix Mr. Pudbury, whom she has never quite forgiven for allowing his chickens to be killed by her dog Tim, who was given away to some people in town, as a result.

As for Miss Snipe, her valentine was prepared with a colored picture of roses and violets, cut out of a picture book and pasted in the middle of an extra large heart—a tribute calculated to mollify Miss Snipe, who has not been friendly since the little girl next door informed the neighborhood that Miss Snipe was going to have a baby.

Well, Valentine's Day is not over yet and we have not heard definitely what happened. But an awful suspicion oppresses them next door. The little girl took all the valentines for the whole neighborhood and distributed them at once in nice white envelopes. But so far as can be discovered no notice was taken of the addresses on the envelopes, written by the lady next door. It is known definitely that Mr. Beak got the one addressed to Mr. Whiffles, but this did not matter as both of them were chaste white hearts without decoration. It has just been ascertained, however, that Mr. Pudbury got the big heart with the pretty flowers that was intended for Miss Snipe. What is haunting them next door is the growing suspicion that Miss Snipe got the donkey with the legend, "You Are My Valentine." Next door they don't dare look out the window when Miss Snipe comes down the road.

NOTICE

The Times urges its correspondents to restrict their contributions to 400 words. It positively will not print lengthy communications.

These letters must be plainly written on one side of the paper only, and must be accompanied by the names and addresses of the writers, not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

Letters will not be re-written for publication. If they are not legible no attempt will be made to read them.

Letters not used will not be returned to the writers. These rules, which henceforth will be carried out absolutely, are designed as much for the protection of our patient readers as for that of the Times.

AN EXPLANATION

To the Editor:—With reference to the resolution adopted by a meeting of local retail merchants held in the Chamber of Commerce recently, in which the action of Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister, in appointing a committee to investigate the charges recently brought by Hon. H. H. Stevens was endorsed, there are certain points that should be clearly understood.

In his address to the National Shoe Retailers' Convention in Toronto, which address, by the way, was broadcast throughout the whole Dominion, the Minister of Trade and Commerce drew attention to glaring abuses of the practice of a dribble from the stores by certain chain organizations. It is evident from the context of the Minister's address, that in using the words "dribble from the stores," he did so in the broader sense.

In the second place, it might appear to some, not perhaps, sufficiently informed, that the local gathering was directly partly against the local departmental establishments. Such was not the case; nor did any such consideration enter into the minds of those responsible for the promotion of the meeting. Indeed, a representative of one of the larger local departmental stores was present at the meeting. Perusal of the text of the resolution, as published in the local press, which was unanimously adopted, will show that its framers were concerned primarily with the curbing of a practice, described by Hon. Mr. Stevens as unfair and unethical, which encourages sweat-shop methods and concomitant with it, realize, and their belief is borne out by sad experience, that depreciation of buying power is the inevitable result of the methods which form the basis of the Minister's allegations, and is one of the main causes contributory to general business recession.

FIRE INSURANCE

To the Editor:—I have been opposed to the state entering into private business, but now I am convinced that something will have to be done about the fire insurance rate situation. The figures presented in your paper yesterday by Alderman Walter Loney convince me that under the present uncompetitive private control it has developed into a high-powered racket for gathering in enormous profits.

Last year the fire companies paid in losses in Victoria only $9,600, according to the city figures, and for the last ten years the losses have not run over $50,000 a year. But for this "protection," the insurance companies' expenses between $300,000 and $350,000 a year in premiums from the property holders of this city. In addition, these same property holders paid another sum of $100,000 a year to keep up an efficient fire department to protect the huge profits of the insurance companies from loss.

Do the property owners of Victoria realize what this means to each one of them? It means that the individual here is paying $30 a year for $5 worth of insurance. That is a ratio of six to one in favor of the companies and against the insured.

Besides the $50,000 they return to the property owners in payments for losses, it would be reasonable for the insurance companies to be allowed something for overhead and for building up a reserve. Surely under any logical arrangement an additional $50,000, which would be at the rate of 100 per cent, would be reasonable.

But an overhead of six to one is outrageous! The fire insurance racket must now be put near the head of the list of things to be cleaned up. We, the public, are looking for some action. D.S.

ABDICATION

To the Editor:—Should the proverbial man from Mars, in visiting this planet take a side-glance at Canada he would doubtless be puzzled at the mental kinks of our constitution building and parliamentarianism. This little speck of dust in the heavens is older and, let us hope, wiser (that is, the statesmen thereof) than ours. The public works seen there by scientists are quite impressive. Flammarion thought the climate good, though a bit chilly and more ethereal than our earthy abode; and that very likely the many risks and declines of civilization had at least given them experience if not wisdom. One is apt to wonder what explosives the Martians would use in sizing up our pocket-marked and labored landscape, especially in the cities.

Our national government has, first and last, abdicated its sovereignty in the land to the provinces and, with the exception of a dribble from the territories, has had to fall back on quite illegitimate sources for its revenue. The provinces have in their turn abdicated to the municipalities, and are within the municipal jurisdiction and to crown all, the municipalities have abdicated to the landholders.

The provinces, on the assumption I suppose, that the national government

NEW PACKING IS GREAT BOON

Here is interesting news for those who use unwaxed chocolate. J. & F. W. & Sons (Canada) Limited have brought out a greatly improved packing which consists of eight separate one-ounce squares of unwaxed chocolate. There is now no need to go to the trouble of cutting or breaking in order to get exactly the amount you want. All those who have had this trouble in the past will realize what a great boon this new packing is.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALICE MICHAELIS

WINTER IN THE SOUTH

How strange is winter's touch upon this land
 Who vows allegiance ever to the sun;
 How alien the coldness of his hand
 And his harsh troops that through the
 And his scarlet flags polenta blooms lift
 In garden run!
 That from the northland swoops, strident
 And swift.
 An angered god, to supplants deaf and blind.
 The new leaves of the camphor, pink and small.
 The petals of the delicate white rose,
 Lantana's gold and orange flowers, all
 Shrink, shiver, where winter's bleak
 And even the mocking bird, once bold and gay.
 In forest fastnesses now hides away.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

The early morning feeding, usually given at about 2 a.m., is one with which well-fed babies very quickly dispense. Six to eight hours without feeding may come about as early as the third or fourth month. Mothers who bewail this "starvation" of the poor, weak baby are compelled, when they try it, to admit that baby is obviously the better for his uninterrupted rest, and they themselves are far happier.

NATURAL HABIT

In dropping this night feeding the mother need only take advantage of baby's own propensity to sleep without waking. He does this quite naturally, unless his conscientious mother has wakened him so persistently that he has learned to awaken. What usually happens is that baby quickly adapts himself to the four-hour feeding schedule for daytime, which is 6-10 to 2-4, or 9-11 to 4-7. Following that last feeding he should sleep until he awakens by himself, some time between 10 and 12, and more often the latter hour. If fed, he will sleep again until morning. This is an ideal arrangement as it cuts the long night in two and baby is quite content to go the six-hour intervals with only one feeding.

If the child awakens several times at night, demanding some nourishment, the daytime feedings need attention. There are reasons for wakefulness unrelated to feeding which are described in my leaflet on "Causes for Sleeplessness." Every mother may have a free copy by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope with each request. Barring these reasons, the baby will sleep through the night if he is being furnished with a daytime diet that supplies his growing body with all the necessary nourishment.

After sleeping for long months without the flicker of an eyelash, the baby often indicates by sudden sleeplessness and increasing demands for more night feedings that his diet is ready for improvement. He is making every effort to convince his mother that he is hungry and not that he particularly enjoys the sound of his own voice in the dark hours, or that he is intent on making his sleepy mother uncomfortable. The nursing baby's need to be weaned is almost invariably preceded by his own night habits which confuse and confound a mother unprepared to make this drastic change in his habits. The well-fed baby can get along nicely on five feedings in the twenty-four hours, provided his nourishment keeps pace with his increasing needs. After the ninth month, sometimes earlier, he should be able to struggle along on only four feedings, no night feedings, and inspiring the members to further effort. Mrs. H. Travis sang two solos, accompanied by Mrs. Lang.

W.B.A. Concert.—A very interesting program has been arranged for the concert to be held on Monday, February 19, in the New Thought Hall, Port Street, under the auspices of Queen Alexandra Review No. 1, W.B.A. The concert will commence at 8 p.m. and will be followed by a bridge party. Tickets may be obtained from the Royal Dairy, View Street.

MILLIONAIRE'S ADOPTED DAUGHTER WEDS

W.C.T.U. OPPOSE BEER LICENSE

Rockland Park Group Protests Issuance to Four Mile House

"As beer parlors are in direct opposition to the work of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, which is aiming to create the ideal of personal and national sobriety, the Rockland Park W.C.T.U. strongly protests against the issuance of a license to the Four Mile House."

A resolution to this effect was passed at the parlor meeting of the Rockland Park Union yesterday afternoon and will be forwarded to the Attorney-General by the secretary, Mrs. J. P. Hicks.

The meeting in commemoration of Frances Willard Memorial Day, was held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Whitely, 1186 Yates Street, Mrs. John Hall, the president, presiding. Mrs. F. W. Laing led the devotional exercises, reading from the Crusade Psalm and from the "Life of Frances Willard." Mrs. Willard organized the W.C.T.U. in Victoria fifty-one years ago. It being the first women's organization incorporated in British Columbia.

CHILD PIANIST TO RECEIVE $75,000

Associated Press
New York, Feb. 14.—Ruth Sleszynski, the phenomenal nine-year-old pianist, yesterday signed a contract, through her father, guaranteeing her $75,000 for her second season in the United States.

Ruth, who made a sensational debut here last November, will sail for Paris next week, but will return to the United States in January, 1935. She will present thirty concerts at an average fee of $2,500.

ENGLISH STAR FOR HOLLYWOOD

Mrs. Herbert Marshall (better known as Edna Best), wife of the noted English actor, pictured as she arrived at New York, en route to the movie capital, where she is to play her husband. She is a star in her own right.

Guild Does Much For St. Mary's

Mrs. Thorne Marshall was re-elected president of St. Mary's Guild at the annual meeting yesterday afternoon. Other officers chosen were: Vice-president, Mrs. Herbert Marshall; secretary, Mrs. H. H. Cullis (re-elected); treasurer, Mrs. A. A. Bengough; Mrs. W. J. Goepel was elected honorary life president, the others already elected being Mrs. Arthur Creasey, Mrs. E. E. L. Nunn and Mrs. Thomas Cooper.

Rev. Canon A. E. de L. Nunn thanked the members for their splendid work during a trying year. He said that the guild was one of the oldest organizations of the church and that since its inauguration had raised $30,000 for the church.

Favors Uniformity in School Textbooks

Uniformity of school textbooks throughout Canada is desirable in the opinion of Dr. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, who commented yesterday on proposals emanating from Calgary on this subject.

The minister said that readers in the four western provinces were now uniform and negotiations between these provinces in the last ten years had been conducted with the object of uniformity in all the standard books.

Concert is Enjoyed.—An appreciative audience greeted the Lake Hill Community Players at a concert given by them yesterday evening in St. Mark's Hall, Bolestin Road, held under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of St. Mark's Church. Three short plays were given, the cast for "Boxed and Coated" being Don Gailie, Phyllis Creasey, Peter Howell, Jennie Hutton, Ruth Creasey and Jack Van der Bent; for "Freddie," Laura Adams, Lily Barnes, Betty Taylor and Ruth White; and "Daddy's Trouser," Jennie Hutton, Don Gailie, Una Rieby, Dix Timmins and Peter Howell. A Spanish tango was given by Don Gailie and Jennie Hutton. The program was danced by Jennie Hutton and Mr. Anderson. Following the program dancing was enjoyed by the entertainers and those in attendance at the concert.

FOUNDER'S DAY TEA SUCCESS

I.O.D.E. Pays Tribute to Memory of Late Mrs. Clark-Murray

Nearly 150 members of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire attended the delightful tea at the Hudson's Bay yesterday afternoon to commemorate "Founder's Day," the anniversary of the founding of the I.O.D.E. by the late Mrs. Clark-Murray.

AT HEAD TABLE
The affair was sponsored by the Municipal Chapter, and the various primary chapters took tables. At the head table, at which Mrs. L. A. Genge, the Municipal regent, presided, an arrangement of flags formed a canopy-like decoration, beneath which was hung a handsome satin replica of the emblem of the order. The table was centered with a beautiful bowl of yellow daffodils, blue iris, paper-white narcissus and fern and seated with Mrs. Genge were Mrs. J. A. Macdonald, Lady (Percy) Lake, Mrs. Curtis Sampson, Mrs. W. H. Belton, Mrs. A. H. Hanson (Baskin), Mrs. Alan Moxley, Mrs. F. G. Dexter, Mrs. J. H. Gillespie and Mrs. R. B. McMeekin. Charming corsage bouquets, the gift of Mrs. Brown, were presented to the guests at the head table.

Between the window embrasures was hung a photographic reproduction of the oil portrait of Mrs. Clark-Murray, imposed upon a panel of black velvet and flanked by the Municipal Chapter standard. Taking her stand before the portrait, and introduced by Mrs. Genge, Mrs. Curtis Sampson, the provincial president, reviewed the history of the order since its founding by Mrs. Murray on February 13, 1900.

"In the brain of this zealous, patriotic woman—and with the nucleus of six women—was evolved an idea based on the fact that the women were organized and stood ready in emergency to respond to the call of empire, women, as a body, had no bond of fellowship or opportunity for service to render effective assistance in time of need," said the president.

"The plan of the founders was the every city and town of the Dominion, with municipal, provincial and national chapters, which she had the satisfaction of seeing accomplished before her death, Quebec, the last province, being organized in 1924. The Imperial Chapter is a dream yet to be realized," observed Mrs. Sampson.

After reviewing the activities of the order since its inception, the president paid warm tribute to the memory of Mrs. Clark-Murray, and recalled meeting her in Toronto some years ago, an occasion which she treasured in her memory. Mrs. Belton moved, and Mrs. Audrey Wood seconded, the vote of thanks to Mrs. Sampson.

RESTORE CUTS TO TEACHERS

Vancouver School Board Also Makes Partial Restoration in School Services

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Feb. 14.—Partial restoration of teachers' salaries, bringing them up to ninety per cent of schedule, and restoration of school services removed from last year's budget are provided in the 1934 estimates of the Vancouver School Board, made public yesterday.

The total is set at $3,525,000, or an increase of $573,000 over the actual expenditure of $2,952,000 in 1933. Should the school board fail to give a definite understanding that it will make its 1934 salary agreement with Vancouver teachers on the basis of ninety per cent of the salary schedule, arbitration proceedings will be requested immediately.

This was the ultimatum received from Vancouver Teachers' Council Monday night by the trustees.

In the unavoidable absence of A. M. D. Fairbairn, who was to have spoken on "The Haldas of Queen Charlotte Islands," the Island Arts and Crafts yesterday resolved itself into a discussion on modern art versus academic, led by George Southwell.

Introduced by the president, Donald Cameron, Mr. Southwell acknowledged that his very adverse views on modern art were gradually undergoing a change. The reason for his modified views in modern art, he said, was a reflex of the changed psychology, realizing that the young do not see as their predecessors saw. Formerly the artist strove to reproduce something as he saw it, but the modern school seeks rather the pattern or the essence to be reproduced in a sort of shorthand, giving the wonderful efforts of the modern or half-modern artist in God-made Nature.

Rolland Rolston is asleep

Rolland Rolston wants to buy something—but he is asleep. He tried to telephone to a firm in order to place the order, but the firm didn't have enough telephone lines, so Rolland found all of the lines busy whenever he tried. Finally he fell asleep. We don't know what he will do when he wakes up. Perhaps he will decide to try somewhere else.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

MMMM! HOT CROSS BUNS!

By Sister Mary

"One a penny, two a penny, Hot Cross Buns!" With the opening of Lent hot cross buns usually claim much of our attention. Many bakers feature this bread every Friday during the entire Lenten season, while others save them especially for Good Friday and Easter mornings.

The custom of eating hot cross buns originated in Old England. In ancient times buns, if properly made, were supposed to keep for years. They probably took the place of a pagan sweetmeat served in honor of Eostre, a Saxon goddess of the East whose feast was celebrated in the spring. The sign of the cross on the bun proclaimed it a Christian cake. Often the housewife put the sign of the cross on her bread to prevent the evil spirit from interfering with her baking. As Good Friday day was considered the most unlucky day of the year she naturally took every precaution to guard against evil influences and make her baking a success.

Because hot cross buns are made with yeast there are, of course, two good reasons for the long process and the short process.

SHORT PROCESS
One cup milk, 1 yeast cake, 1/2 cup lukewarm water, 1-3 cup granulated sugar, 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 cup butter, 1 egg, 1/2 cup currants.

Scald milk and cool to lukewarm temperature. Add yeast cake dissolved in water. Add sugar, salt, cinnamon and egg well beaten. Add flour, currants and softened butter and work until thoroughly blended. Knead to a smooth dough and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk.

The temperature for this rising should be between 70 and 80 degrees F. It should take about one hour. Pinch off small pieces and shape into tiny balls. With a sharp knife cut two deep gashes, making a cross, on the top of each. Place in a buttered pan about an inch apart and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk. Bake twenty-five minutes in a hot oven. Brush over with a syrup made by boiling 1/4 cup sugar with 2 table-spoons water for one minute.

LONG PROCESS
One and one-half cups milk, 1-3 cup granulated sugar, 4 table-spoons butter, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 yeast cake, 4 tes-poons lukewarm water, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 egg, 1/2 cup currants, flour. Scald milk and add butter, salt and sugar. When lukewarm add yeast cake dissolved in water. Add 2 1/2 cups flour mixed and sifted with cinnamon. Beat well and add egg well beaten. Mix thoroughly and add currants and flour to knead, from 1/2 to 1 cup more. Knead until elastic and put into a large mixing bowl. Cover with a cloth and let rise in a moderately warm place over night. In the morning shape as in preceding recipe. Let rise in a warm place for thirty minutes. Bake in a hot oven for twenty-five minutes. Brush over with syrup when taken from the oven.

TO-MORROW'S MENU

Breakfast—Orange juice, cereal, cream, potato omelet, hot cross buns, milk, coffee.
Luncheon—Clear tomato soup, toasted crackers, prunes and peanut butter salad, rye rolls, filled French doughnuts, milk, tea.
Dinner—Corned beef with horseradish sauce, steamed potatoes in parley butter, browned sprouts, cole slaw, cherry pie, milk, coffee.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"
THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1934

Friendly stars rule to-day, according to astrology, although adverse influences are discernible. It is a time most promising for future achievement and should be marked by many successes in the coming days.

The morning is auspicious for newspapers, which should contain information stimulating to industry and energizing to individuals.

This is a lucky day for signing leases or contracts. Property owners should profit from initiative on this date.

Architects come under a sway that seems to greater radical changes in types of business structures. Past and present will unite to form that gain artistic acclaim. It is predicted.

Women should be fairly lucky under this direction of the stars, but they must take no risks in trusting men who seek to be guides in business or private affairs.

Plans will destroy many international agreements, it is prognosticated, scrapping old treaties and establishing new ones in which this country will concur.

Saturn is ready to bestow for the early spring a world-wide stabilization of currencies, but warning is given that financial dictators will rise to power.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the luxury of a year out of effort. Letters or legal papers may cause financial puzzles or problems.

Children born on this day probably will be brilliant in mind and courageous in character. Subjects of this sign usually are exceedingly independent and resourceful. Many stars to lead in novel fields of effort.

John Barrymore, stage and screen star, has been elected to a birthday club. Cyrus Hall McCormick, inventor and financier, and Charles Francis Daubigny, noted French painter.

"MUMMY'S ALWAYS SO CROSS TO ME"

DARLING, YOU REALLY SHOULD HAVE MORE PATIENCE WITH LITTLE SALLY. IF ONLY YOU WEREN'T SO TIRED AND RUN-DOWN ALL THE TIME...

NOW YOU'RE TURNING AGAINST ME, TOO?

HAS THIS HAPPENED IN YOUR HOME?

OF COURSE, CONSTIPATION IS LIKELY TO BE THE TROUBLE. THAT'S WHAT THE DOCTOR TOLD ME WHEN I WAS RUN-DOWN AND NERVOUS. ALL HE TOLD ME TODAY WAS TO EAT FLEISCHMANN'S YEAST REGULARLY. IT WAS SO EASY, TOO.

HELEN, DARLING—SAY—THIS IS A SIGHT FOR SORE EYES—YOU AND SALLY HAVING FUN LIKE THIS AND YOU SO PEPPY AND WELL AGAIN.

OH, NAN, I'M GOING TO TRY IT!

YOU'LL NEVER KNOW HOW GRATEFUL I AM TO NAN FOR TELLING ME ABOUT FLEISCHMANN'S YEAST!

DR. C. DAVID, the Great French Specialist in Women's Diseases, explains—

"POISONS FROM CONSTIPATION BRING ON HEADACHES, INDIGESTION, LOSS OF ENERGY... THE 'NATURAL REMEDY' IS YEAST!"

Fleischmann's Yeast "tones" your intestines—purifies your system—gently removes the poisons that drag down health. Eat 2 cakes daily. Directions are on the label. Try it—now!

FLEISCHMANN'S YEAST for Health

Warning! When you buy yeast be sure you ask for FLEISCHMANN'S, because—

- 1 It's the only yeast that contains three important vitamins—B, G, D.
- 2 It's the yeast famous doctors advise.
- 3 For 65 years it has been known as the best for all purposes.

When Your Cough Hangs On, Mix This at Home

Saves Good Money! No Cooking!

If you want the best cough remedy that money can buy, mix it at home. It costs very little, yet it's the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any drugist can supply you with 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 oz. bottle, and add granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. To make syrup, use 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. It's no trouble at all, and gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money—a real family supply. Keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

It loosens the germ-laden phlegm, soothes and heals the inflamed membranes, clears the air passages, and thus ends a severe cough in a day. Smart, smart, smart! Pinex is a compound of Norway Pine, in concentrated form, the most reliable healing agent for severe coughs. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

What Is Real Cause Of Divorce?

Dorothy Dix

The Little Things in Marriage Are the Big Things, Really—It Is the Nagging Whine and The Lack of a Shave That Bring on Divorce And It Is the Repetition of Kindly Little Acts That Makes Happiness Last a Lifetime

WHAT CAUSES husbands and wives to get divorced? A judge who has tried more than 40,000 divorce cases says that it is trifles. It is little faults and not big crimes that, as a general thing, bring them to the parting of the ways. Love is killed often by the pebble in the shoe than it is by a stab in the heart. More homes are wrecked by the gnawing of petty faults at their foundation than are destroyed by the cyclone of passion. It is literally true that grounds in the coffee pot are the grounds of many a divorce, and that many a woman is driven into buying a ticket for Reno by the way her husband eats his eggs at breakfast.

It is curious that we do not more fully appreciate that our manners are quite as important as our morals in making marriage a success, and that the thing that endears us to our husbands and wives is not our abstract virtues but our pleasantness to live with. A man may be as sober as the town pump, stick as close to the hearthstone as the house cat, never even glance at any other petticoat than his wife's and yet if he is a tightwad or surly and ill-tempered she finds him an earthly purgatory and longs for widowhood—grass or sod.

And a woman may be as chaste as Caesar's wife, as expert a penny-pincher as Betty Green, a slave to her husband and children, yet if she is shrewish and nagging and a petty tyrant her husband is practically forced to flee from her to save even a remnant of his happiness.

It is no consolation to a woman that her husband never makes love to another woman if he is as cold as a block of ice to her, too. It is no pleasure to her to have him spend his evenings at home if he is a wet blanket in the house that sends the temperature down to zero. No man finds compensation in contemplating his wife's faithfulness to him if she henpecks him out of his life. Nor is there any flavor in even the best-cooked dinner if it is eaten to an accompaniment of fault-finding and recriminations about the things he has done and left undone.

Many a man and woman married to a technically good wife and husband has thought that a cheerful dinner was to be preferred to an austere saint as a life partner. It is because this is really the case that we often see the phenomenon that is often thought to be inexplicable of a woman clinging to a drunken and no-account but otherwise charming husband, or of a man adoring a wife who is a bad cook and a poor manager, but who is sweet and jolly and interesting.

Of course, when we get divorces the law forces us to scandalize the party of the other part and allege some mortal sin against him or her. In most instances these are merely trumped-up charges to camouflage a man and woman's having got on each other's nerves and having fought their way to the divorce court.

For divorces do not come suddenly. They are always a long time in preparing. There is some little grievance that grows and grows as time goes on until it becomes so big it fills their whole horizon. There is some little rift that widens and widens until it becomes a gulf that separates them. Before a man is unfaithful to his wife there has to be the inevitable period of disillusionment and disappointment in her failure to be the mate he desires. Before a wife turns to another man for romance and affection, her husband has starved her for love and sentiment.

The thing that drives most people to divorce is the lack of congeniality. Different tastes in cooking and especially different tastes in amusements. Different habits. Different points of view. Different temperaments. If the true co-responder was named, in numerous cases it would not be some platinum blonde or some good-looking sheik, but a pipe or a golf stick or a vacuum cleaner or a radio.

Probably more marriages have been wrecked by tobacco than any other thing. A wife determined that her husband should not smoke, who spent her whole married life quarreling with him about it. Innumerable other wives who were meticulous housekeepers have swept their husbands out of the house by raising ructions every time mud was tracked into the house or newspapers were left on the floor. If all the tears that have been shed by women who do not like to play golf over being golf widows could be gathered together, they would float a steamboat.

It is soiled kimonos and lack of shaves. It is thinking that home is a place where you can park your politeness. It is lazy wives who will not get up and get their husbands' breakfasts. It is breakfast-table spats. It is the price of a hat and not noticing a new dress that break up marriages and wreck homes.

It is lack of appreciation and never saying "thank you." It is wise-cracking and belittling one another before strangers. It is showing to each other all of the ill temper and boorishness they would never show strangers that is at the bottom of every divorce.

For in marriage it is the little things that are the big things. Take care of the little amenities of life and the big virtues will take care of themselves.

DROPS FIFTEEN FEET TO ROOF

George Davis Suffers Head Injuries After Fall From Bosun's Chair on Building

Suffering severe concussion and contusions after falling fifteen feet from the bosun's chair in which he was seated painting a radio mast, George Davis, 214 Howe Street, was reported as having had a comfortable night at St. Joseph's Hospital and his condition was good.

The accident occurred at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, shocking a number of persons in city offices who were watching the twenty-year-old youth as he scaled the mast on top of the Central Building, which he was painting for the Victoria Broadcasting Company.

Officials at CPCT at first were unaware of the accident until Bernard Deaville, who was assisting him, discovered him lying on the roof of the building. Dr. Walker Bapty was summoned and ordered the youth's removal to the hospital, where he was taken by the C. and C. ambulance. He never lost consciousness after the fall. X-ray examination revealed he was suffering from concussion. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Davis and has been employed at the studio for some time. The accident was caused by the breaking of the rope which held the bosun's chair.

PLANS PROCEED FOR AUTO SHOW

Model Airplanes and Ship Models Will Also Be on View

Plans for Victoria's second annual spring motor show under the sponsorship of the Canadian Scottish Regiment and the Fifth B.C. Coast Artillery Brigade are progressing rapidly, according to Aubrey H. C. Jones, manager of the show.

One of the most interesting contests being arranged is that for model airplanes and also historic ship models. Owing to the intense interest among young children of the city in building these models, it has been decided to have five different groups with a first, second and third prize in each group. Children may obtain further information from the show headquarters at 1122 Government Street.

The Victoria Auto Dealers' Association has subscribed for all the space available for cars, and inquiries for other space continue to pour into the motor show office.

The entertainment this year will be of the highest order, and nationally known artists have been secured to come to Victoria especially for the motor show, so that entertainment will not be lacking.

HOSPITAL BALL AT CHEMAINUS

Chemainus, Feb. 14. — The annual Chemainus Hospital ball, given under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary, was a most successful affair and largely attended by residents of Victoria and Island points.

Wes Morris's augmented orchestra supplied the music. Supper was served in the small hall.

The Women's Auxiliary to St. Michael's and All Angels Church held their regular business meeting in the Anglican parish hall. Mrs. Robathan gave a reading on the work of the Women's Auxiliary.

The women's world day of prayer will be observed in Calvary Baptist Church February 16 at 3 o'clock. Miss Robinson, deaconess of Victoria, was the week-end guest of the Rev. Eric and Mrs. Robathan. Miss Robinson gave an interesting lantern lecture in the Anglican parish hall Saturday night on her work on the Sunday school commission in outlying parts of British Columbia.

The fortnightly bridge party was held here on Saturday, the prize-winners being: Ladies' first, Mrs. D. I. Walker; second, Mrs. A. Ternan; gentlemen's first, F. Turcotte; second, A. Ternan. Mrs. William Stubbs and Mrs. Stubbs spent the week-end here with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Rough.

Mrs. W. Ledingham and Marjorie have been visiting Victoria.

Nanaimo, Feb. 14.—Henry A. Mulholland, Vancouver salesman, was yesterday fined $10 and costs by Magistrate Beaver Potts, for selling goods without a license.

QUICK! STOP THAT COLD IN THE DRY OR FIRST STAGE!

A cold ordinarily goes through three stages: The Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage. It is twice as easy stopped in the first as in the second or third stages. In fact, to let a cold run beyond the first stage is inviting trouble.

As your doctor will tell you, there is nothing better you can take for a cold than Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. It is expressly a cold remedy and is not a "cure-all". It is internal treatment which a cold requires. It is complete in effect. It does the four things necessary.

First, it opens the bowels. Second, it combats the cold germs in the system and reduces the fever. Third, it relieves the headache and grumpy feeling. Fourth, it tones the entire system and fortifies against further attack. Anything less than that is inviting trouble.

FIRE DRILL TO BE ENFORCED

Courtenay, Feb. 14.—It was brought to the notice of the school board that no fire drill had been held since school opened. This matter will be brought to the attention of those responsible, as the board considered it advisable at this time, when new pupils are enrolled, to hold fire drill.

A communication from the Free Text Book Department advised the board that in future free text books would remain the property of the school and not pass into the possession of the pupils. Books will be collected at the end of the term and those in fit condition resold.

MANY ATTEND CONCERT HERE

Burns Club Entertainment at Chamber of Commerce Is Enjoyed

Revering in a spirit reminiscent of their native land, two hundred Scotsmen were entertained by the Burns Club yesterday evening at the Chamber of Commerce. The programme included recitals, songs, piano numbers and a musical sketch. Donald Cameron was the piper of the evening. John Grant, vice-president, was master of ceremonies.

A clever musical sketch produced by Thomas Watson and three generations of the Watson family, opened the programme. Recitations by Miss E. Morris, Thomas McMartin, Miss Dorothy Davis and George Little drew rounds of applause.

Clever interpretation of the gypsy, Indian warrior and Mexican dances by young Ian Gibson, proved one of the features of the programme. Miss Sadie Jamieson, Miss Ina Robertson and Gerald Elliott displayed splendid grace to their version of the sword dance, while the presentation of the "Reel o' Tulloch," by Misses Evelyn Watson, Gwen Dewar, Jessie Pollock and Lillian Grant met with loud applause.

Leslie Clark was the singer of the evening, and Thomas McMartin entertained with piano selections.

SONS FEAST WITH FATHERS

Ganges, Feb. 14.—The eighth annual father and son banquet of the Trail Rangers was held in Mahon Hall Friday evening, when nearly 100 were present. Rev. W. H. Thompson addressed the gathering. Ivan Moutat gave a short speech on stamp collecting. The toast to "The King" was proposed by Rev. G. Dean, the national anthem being sung in response. The toast, "The Church," was given by George Anderson, and replied to by E. Cross. "Our Dads" was proposed by Fred Young and replied to by W. M. Moutat.

S. Newman addressed the gathering, first giving a message from Rev. Wm. Allan, former pastor of the United Church, Ganges. He also spoke of the great advantage the boys enjoyed from the influence of the church, and paid a tribute to A. Robertson, former high schoolmaster here, who eight years ago was chiefly instrumental in getting the Trail Ranger and Tuxis Boy movement started on the island.

Mrs. Gilbert Moutat, mother of Colin Moutat, cut the birthday cake. Community singing was enjoyed with Miss Annie Allan at the piano. A clever exhibition of drill and gymnastics, under the leadership of James Snook, was given.

Colin Moutat was responsible for the successful programme.

VALENTINE DANCE ON SALT SPRING

Ganges, Feb. 14. — The Anglican Young People's Association held their annual Valentine dance in the Central Settlement Hall. About 100 were present, and dancing was enjoyed to the music by the Millionaires' orchestra of Victoria.

Those responsible for the decorations were Mrs. Popham, E. Beddie, J. H. Kingdom and C. S. Holmes.

The committee in charge of the dance and supper were Mrs. W. Rogers, Mrs. Douglas Hamilton and Mrs. Alan Cartwright.

Miss Shirley Wilson was hostess Friday evening at a dinner party in honor of her cousin, Miss Clare Wilson, whose marriage took place on Saturday. The guests included Mrs. Douglas Roberts, Misses Brice Wilson, Betty Abbott, Doreen and Denis Crofton, Jean Bonnie, Betty Kingsbury, Gladys Borsadale, Doris Taylor, Nora Turner and Claire Wilson.

Capt. F. H. Walter was host at a luncheon party of out-of-town guests attending the Butterfield-Wilson wedding Saturday. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Ritchie, Miss E. Walter, Mr. and Mrs. C. Tolson and family and Mrs. Neel.

CHRONIC BRONCHITIS RAZ-MAH

REHEARSAL OF PAGEANT HELD

Colorful Revue Will Be Presented To-morrow and Friday at Metropolitan

Under the supervision of Miss Ella Carson, director, full dress rehearsal of the Metropolitan Church pageant, which will be presented to-morrow and Friday evenings, was held in the church yesterday evening. There are 170 characters appearing in the production, which will take approximately three hours. The pageant depicts the growth of the Metropolitan Church from the time of the laying of the first corner stone in 1859 up to the present day.

The pageant is presented in nine acts, each of which shows development during various periods of the church's life. It is one of the most elaborate undertakings of its kind which has ever been arranged here, and is colorful from beginning to end.

The different acts follow:

Act 1: Two American missionaries visited Victoria in the autumn of 1858, but learning that arrangements had been made for missionaries to come from Canada, they returned to Kingston. On February 10, 1859, the four missionaries, Evans, White, Robson and Browning, landed at Victoria and received a hearty welcome.

Act 2: The first Sunday's services in the court house are portrayed.

Act 3: On a suitable site, kindly donated by the Hudson's Bay Company, at the corner of Pandora and Broad, the corner stone of the first Wesleyan Church on the coast was laid with fitting ceremonies on August 15, 1859.

Act 4: For forty years the congregation worshipped there until larger accommodation became a necessity. This act shows the trustees board deciding upon building the present church.

Act 5: An outstanding event in the history of the present church was the holding of the Methodist General Conference here in 1910. The Prime Minister of Canada, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and the Premier of British Columbia, Sir Richard S. Bligh, visited the conference and a movie film was made of the event. Church union produced a stirring debate at this conference.

Act 6: Metropolitan has always been missionary in spirit. This has led her to establish many churches in outlying districts and render help to more distant fields. Representatives of these return to-day to bear greetings to Mother Metropolitan on her seventy-fifth birthday.

Act 7: In tableau style the Great War is briefly recalled. The news of war, the departure of troops, scenes in the trenches and in Red Cross hospitals, with a glimpse of women's work at home—all are rapidly delineated.

Act 8: The Union of Congregationalists, Presbyterians and Methodists in 1925 to form the United Church of Canada is illustrated by three groups of singers. When they have merged, the audience is invited to rise and join in the hymn "The Church's One Foundation." The amalgamation of the Congregational Church with Metropolitan is also recalled.

Act 9: During these seventy-five years a great change has taken place in the education of our youth in the church. The development of movements such as the C.G.I.T., the Tuxis and Trail Rangers and others is here presented in tableaux.

Under the supervision of Miss Ella Carson, director, full dress rehearsal of the Metropolitan Church pageant, which will be presented to-morrow and Friday evenings, was held in the church yesterday evening. There are 170 characters appearing in the production, which will take approximately three hours. The pageant depicts the growth of the Metropolitan Church from the time of the laying of the first corner stone in 1859 up to the present day.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

THEN THE GIANT GORILLA CAME TOWARD ME, BEATING HIS HUGE FISTS ON HIS POWERFUL CHEST—THERE I STOOD, IN MY
QUEST OF AFRICAN INSECTS, UNARMED,
SAVE FOR MY MAGNIFYING GLASS, NOTEBOOK
AND FOUNTAIN PEN—U-M-P-F-A-F-K-A-F-F-
E-G-A-D, MY THROAT IS GETTING DRY—WELL,
SIR, I WOULDN'T BE HERE TODAY, WERE IT
NOT FOR MY QUICK THINKING—BEFORE
THE GORILLA STARTED TO CRUSH ME WITH HIS ARMS, I HELD THE FOUNTAIN PEN TO MY CHEST, POINT TOWARD THE BEAST, SO THAT THE PEN

PRIVATE BILLS
Notice is hereby given that the time limited by the Standing Orders of the House for reading Private Bills will expire on Thursday, the 1st day of March, 1934. Private Bills must be presented to the House on or before Tuesday, the 13th day of March, 1934. Reports from Standing or Select Committees on Private Bills must be received on or before Tuesday, the 20th day of March, 1934.

W. H. LANGLEY,
Clerk, Legislative Assembly

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR PRIVATE BILL
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that an application will be made to the Legislative Assembly of the Province of British Columbia at its next Session by the Corporation of the City of Victoria for an Act to be known as the "Victoria City Act 1934" providing for the following matters and giving to the said Corporation and the Municipal Council thereof the following powers, namely:

1. Fixing the first statutory meeting of the Council to be held on the first Monday in January or if said Monday is a holiday then on the next day thereafter that is not a holiday.

2. Authorizing the Council to borrow temporarily during the year 1934 without the assent of the electors a sum or sums of money not exceeding Two hundred and thirty-one thousand One hundred dollars ($231,100.00) for the purpose of redeeming at maturity serial debentures of the Corporation due and payable during the year 1934 pending the sale of debentures first mentioned in the next succeeding paragraph hereth, said borrowing to include any sums which may have been borrowed for said purpose prior to the passing of said Act and providing for the form of obligation and security to be given to the lender.

3. Authorizing the Corporation by By-law to borrow upon debentures without the assent of the electors a sum or sums not exceeding Two hundred and thirty-one thousand One hundred dollars ($231,100.00) and to apply the proceeds thereof toward the redemption of serial debentures of the Corporation falling due in 1934 or toward the discharge and repayment of temporary loans used for redemption of said serial debentures.

4. Authorizing the Council without the assent of the electors—
(a) To enter into Agreements for the renewal or extension of existing mortgages and to provide for the form of obligation and security to be given to the lender.

(b) To borrow temporarily a sum or sums of money not exceeding Four hundred thousand dollars ($400,000.00) for the purpose of paying off the balances due in respect of said existing mortgages and to provide for the form of obligation and security to be given to the lender.

(c) To borrow by By-law upon debentures a sum or sums of money not exceeding Four hundred thousand dollars ($400,000.00) and to apply the proceeds thereof toward the payment of balances due in respect of said existing mortgages and toward the redemption of mortgages temporarily borrowed for that purpose.

(d) To borrow upon a new mortgage or mortgages a sum or sums of money not exceeding Four hundred thousand dollars ($400,000.00) for the purpose of paying off the balances due in respect of the said existing mortgages or of repaying moneys temporarily borrowed for that purpose.

5. Authorizing the Council to provide by By-law—
For regulating, prohibiting, defining, restricting, limiting and licensing the owners and operators of, and others carrying on or engaged in any business connected with, automobiles and other vehicles used for hire.

For fixing rates or fares or establishing maximum and minimum rates or fares to be charged or taken for use of vehicles for hire within any zone, area or district and for requiring the use of, and for the inspection of, meters as a means of determining amounts of rates or fares to be paid.

For assigning stands for vehicles for hire on streets or public places, for classifying all such vehicles and persons carrying on any such business, for providing for the removal of vehicles to take a particular stand so assigned and for prohibiting all other classes from taking such stand and for differentiating according to such classification.

For requiring insurance to be carried for protection of the public and for refusing, suspending or cancelling licenses for failure to comply with insurance requirements, and for requiring insurers to give to the City reasonable notice of cancellation of such insurance.

For regulating, prohibiting and limiting methods and places of canvassing for vehicles for hire and for preventing noise and confusion in connection with vehicles for hire and the canvassing for same.

For regulating the suspension and cancellation of licenses in such manner and with or without notice or hearing as the Council may deem expedient.

For imposing and enforcing penalties for failure to comply with the requirements of any such By-law.

Dated at Victoria, B.C., this 24th day of January, 1934.

H. S. PRINGLE,
Solicitor for the Corporation of the City of Victoria.

Toronto Leafs and All-stars Meet In Hockey Classic To-night

THE SPORTR MIRROR

Hockey Classic of the Year Takes Places To-night at Toronto

Training Methods of Modern Heavyweight Fighters Are Strange

Australia's Davis Cup Chances Not So Good, Declares Official

TO-NIGHT AT THE Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto, one of the finest playing talents in the history of professional hockey will be engaged in the benefit game being staged under the auspices of the National Hockey League to aid Irvin (Ace) Bailey, member of the Toronto Maple Leafs, injured in a game at Boston several weeks ago. The Maple Leafs are opposing a team of all-stars, representative of the best talent in the league. Every available seat for the game has been disposed of and when the teams step on to the ice they will be greeted by a tremendous cheer from the throats of around 15,000 fans.

Playing against Montreal Canadiens, the Maple Leafs have had to watch Howie Morenz and Aurel Joliat, centre star and left winger, respectively, very carefully. Opposing New York Rangers they have been threatened by the scoring power of Bill Cook. Against Detroit they have had considerable trouble in checking Herbie Lewis.

In games against Chicago Black Hawks they have had their difficulties in getting past Lionel Conacher, stalwart defence player, and also scoring goals against Charlie Gardiner, goalie in the net. Such individuals have worried the Leafs in different games, but to-night Toronto will oppose them and others of like calibre collectively. Of additional interest is the playing of Eddie Shore on the all-star line-up. No matter what Shore's intentions were in the unfortunate Bailey incident, it is obvious that he planned no serious injury to the Toronto star. Harboring resentment against him and his future actions prove blameless if it will be fitting and sportsmanlike if the past is forgotten and he is accepted on his showing in games to come.

What are modern heavyweight fighters coming to? Pictures in the mail the last few mornings have shown Primo Carnera, world heavyweight champion, and Tommy Loughran, his opponent in the title bout at Miami, in various dance hall and banquet poses. And we see Loughran armed with a golf club sitting on the beach or wearing a full dress suit. And we see pictures of Loughran and Carnera enjoying themselves on the dance floor rigged out in full dress suits. Judging from the picture, a fighter trains for a championship by: 1, lying in a hammock; 2, lying on the beach; 3, swimming; 4, hanging out; 5, sitting; 6, sitting; 7, reclining; 8, resting; 9, rolling; 10, relaxing.

Not since Dempsey and Tunney have there been fighters who took training camp seriously as a place to train. Tex Rickard sent Benny Leonard to Dempsey's camp to keep him in the ring. Once he gave the Mauler Harry Greb, one of the toughest hoppers in the business, to train on. It was Tex's idea to keep his champion in trim even if Dempsey did look bad once or twice against Greb and Leonard.

Tex surrounded Dempsey with men to whom fighting was a high and holy ritual. As a result, Dempsey, a few days before a fight, when he was near the peak of his physical perfection, became a sullen and savage animal, potentially a killer.

Training played a great part not only in Dempsey's physical upturning, but created a legend in the annals of the sport. Deliberately his social and intellectual sides were played down. He was painted for the public as an abject brute. That was one of the ideas that made Tex Rickard a great promoter and helped to spin the turntables with the silver of fans.

Carnera in a dance hall wearing a full dress suit, his huge hand wrapped around a fluffy bit of femininity? Tex would have him out in a leopard skin suit chasing tailfeathers for breakfast.

Australia's prospects of winning the Davis Cup this year are not nearly as bright as most people in Australia think, says Harley Malcolm, secretary of the Australian Lawn Tennis Association and a Davis Cup selector.

"They are no brighter than they were last year, when we lost to England," he said. Malcolm said that the Japanese players were improving as rapidly as Australian players, and Japan's team was better balanced. Australia would have to fight hard to beat them and the Americans would be a difficult proposition. It seemed that everything would depend upon Crawford.

"We have been trying with a view to ascertaining the best possible combination and in the hope of reserving Crawford for the singles," he said.

Malcolm thought that if Adrian Quist, Australia's a potential champion, and he would not be surprised if Quist went further than Crawford.

To-night's Game To Be Broadcast

This evening's hockey classic between the Toronto Maple Leafs and the National Hockey League All-stars at Toronto, will be broadcast over the Canadian Radio Commission transcontinental hook-up and Victoria sport fans can tune in on the game over station CFCV at Vancouver. The program will commence at 8 o'clock, Victoria time. The game is being staged as a benefit for Irvin (Ace) Bailey, Toronto player who was injured in a fracas at Boston last December.

CARNERA HAS INJURED HAND

Heavyweight Champion Hurts Member in Training; Title Bout Is Postponed

New York, Feb. 14.—Louis Sorel, Italian co-manager of Primo Carnera, said yesterday the heavyweight champion telephoned him Monday night that he had injured his hand in training, and "isn't exactly certain when he will be able to box again."

Sorel, who approved the match with Tommy Loughran only on the insistence of Bill Duffy, Carnera's other manager, said "it would be all right with us if the match was called off."

Miami, Fla., Feb. 14.—Postponement until February 28 of the world heavyweight title fight between Champion Primo Carnera and Tommy Loughran, originally set for February 2, was announced yesterday by the Miami Boxing Commission.

Setting back the date for the bout was sanctioned because of a number of other sporting events scheduled for February 22.

Matchmaker Jimmy Johnston of the Madison Square Corporation, made the formal postponement request to the commission.

Complete slate of officers named for 1934 follow: Byron Johnson, M.P.P., honorary president; Reeve R. W. Mayhew, Mark T. Phillips, Colonel A. Morley, H. J. Ketchen, A. E. Scalle and W. Alexander, honorary vice-presidents; G. B. Player, president; Hubert Lethaby, captain; George Austin and A. J. Darcus, selection committee; R. H. Moffatt, secretary-treasurer; A. J. Darcus, delegate to V.D.C.A.; F. Bosson, equipment manager.

A resolution asking that the club take no part in competitive cricket until the school season is over was given complete support. Efforts will be made to play home-and-home games with the University School, Shawinigan Lake School and Brentwood College. The meeting went on record as favoring the formation of an umpire's association.

Players attended the meeting.

Nearly 15,000 Will Pack Toronto Arena for Bailey Benefit Game

"ACE" BAILEY TO FACE OFF PUCK

By ELMER DULMAGE Canadian Press Staff Writer

Toronto, Feb. 14.—Eddie Shore and Ace Bailey will clasp hands to-night in Maple Leaf Gardens as a prelude to the National Hockey League's benefit game for the ace, former Toronto Maple Leaf right winger, whose injuries, received in a game at Boston last December 12, closed his ice career.

As the group of leading Leafs line up against an all-star cast, selected from the other eight teams, Bailey will make his first public appearance since his skull was fractured when Shore accidentally bumped him to the ice. He will face off the puck.

The largest crowd that ever witnessed a hockey game in Canada—close to 15,000—will view the contest. Gate receipts of approximately $17,000 are to be turned over to Bailey as professional hockey's gift to the one-time sharpshooter.

Every seat in the Gardens has been sold for the unique contest and every inch of standing room will be filled. Most of the famous figures of present-day hockey are in Toronto for the event. Howie Morenz, regarded as one of the two greatest players of all time—the other is Fred (Cyclone) Taylor—arrived Tuesday. Recovering from a leg injury, the Canadians' centre player will nevertheless be a starter.

FAMOUS PLAYERS The Leafs, not quite at full strength, will face a team of celebrated names. Morenz's long-time partner, little Aurel Joliat, and New York's Bill Cook will make up the starting forward line. The three are in the top flight of major league goal-scoring for the last ten years.

Behind them—Shore, dynamic Boston defenceman and hefty Ching Johnson. Sports writers selected them both for the Canadian Press all-star team in 1933. And in goal, Charlie Gardiner, the reigning king of the puck-stoppers. The Leafs pack just about as much wallop and color into their first line-up as any all-star brigade, with George Hainsworth in goal, King Clancy, Red Horner, Happy Day as defencemen, and the grown-up "kids," Charlie Conacher, Harvey Jackson and Joe Primeau in front. Conacher, not completely recovered from a knee infection, is likely to play very little, however.

But how Lester Patrick of the all-stars will show nothing but stay on the boards. His second line includes Neil Stewart, Boston, Hooley Smith and Jimmy Ward, Maroons.

His third line is made up of Normie Himes, Americans, and Herbie Lewis and Larry Aule, Detroit. Frank Finnigan, Ottawa veteran, will be fitted in where Coach Patrick decides he will do the most good.

Three other defencemen, Lionel Conacher, Chicago, Red Dutton, Americans, and Allan Shields, Ottawa, will be at work besides Shore and Johnson.

According to agreements reached by the C.A.H.A. and the A.A.U. Ice Hockey Association, winners of Canada's Allan Cup championship will play the United States amateur champions on Canadian ice April 6 and 7, providing the Canadian branches ratify the proposal.

Canadian branches have been asked to query each branch as to whether they would be willing to play the international series if representatives of their branch won the Allan Cup title.

President Greenleaf said it was hoped the series would become an annual affair.

The victory placed the Tecs on even terms with the Windsor Bull Dogs for possession of fourth place in the league standing while the two Canadian teams are trailing the Syracuse Stars by a single point. Ollie, Gregg and Daley scored for London, Locking and M. Brophy netted for Cleveland.

SUMMARY First period—London, Ollie (Ouellette-Gregg), 15-55. Penalties: Ranger, Holway. Second period—Cleveland, Locking (Gron), 2:15. Cleveland, M. Brophy, 2:40. London, Gregg (Ollie-Ouellette), 3:51. Penalties: Rockburn, Ranger, M. Brophy, Gregg, Proudlock, Cormier, Daley. Third period—No score. Penalties none. Overtime—London, Daley (Pusle), 4:14. Penalties, none.

THISTLES DESPERATE

With their chances of winning the second half practically hanging on Saturday's match the Thistles are certain to put up a great fight and as a result the fans should witness one of the best matches of the season.

The second division game is also a crucial engagement. The Thistles are leading the group and win or draw Saturday will give them the first half honors. Should the Thistles win a deadlock for first place will result, making a play-off necessary to decide the first-half championship.

BOXING

Philadelphia.—Steve Hamas, 193, Pascale, N.J., outpointed Max Schmeling, 121, Germany, (12); Al Feldman, 183, New York, outpointed Lou Foster, 160, Pottstown, Pa. (6); Donald (Red) Barry, 200, Washington, D.C., outpointed Umberto Jones, 195, Puerto Rico (6); Sam Portney, 180, New York, outpointed Johnny Rousseau, 150, Montreal (6).

Miami, Fla.—Frankie Hughes, 143, Clinton, Ind., knocked out Johnny Lucas, 140, Camden, N.J. (8).

Los Angeles.—Young Peter Jackson, 197, Wilmington, Del., knocked out J. J. Jallo, 135, Cleveland (2); Lee Kelly, 176, Los Angeles, knocked out Turfy Dial, 172, Sioux City, Ia. (1); Teddy D. Frank, 155, Detroit, outpointed Mike Ketchall, 165, Los Angeles (4).

San Jose, Calif.—Frankie Genaro, 115, New York, stopped Speedy Dado, 112, Los Angeles (4).

Seattle.—Cecil Payne, 137½, Louisville, Ky., outpointed Henry Woods, 138½, Yakima, Wash. (10).

Seattle, Feb. 14.—Cecil Payne, Seattle, Louisville, Ky., light-weight boxer, won decision again yesterday evening over Henry Woods, flashy Yakima negro, but only by the margin of two knockdowns late in the fight, after Woods had piled up a lead by keeping his left in Payne's face most of the fight. Payne weighed 137½ and Woods 138½.

Payne's knockdowns came in the seventh and tenth rounds after Woods had been boxing carefully and using his superior boxing skill keeping Payne away. In the seventh, Woods took his time about rising and the gong rang as the referee was counting six, but Woods was on one knee ready to resume the battle. He was down for a second and bounced up again, in the tenth.

TWO DEADLY RIGHTS The first knockdown blow was a right to the side of the neck, and the second a right to the jaw. In his previous bout here two weeks ago, Payne won by a wide margin, knocking Woods down three times.

In the second, third, fourth, eighth and ninth rounds, Woods had a shade or better in the battling, with his superior boxing skill keeping Payne away. In the seventh, Woods took his time about rising and the gong rang as the referee was counting six, but Woods was on one knee ready to resume the battle. He was down for a second and bounced up again, in the tenth.

Payne's previous decision was the first loss Woods had suffered in fifty-seven battles, and yesterday evening was his second.

Men's Par Event At Oak Bay Club

The sixth men's monthly competition consisting of eighteen holes match play against pay with three-quarters of the handicaps allowed, will be played at the Victoria Golf Club on Sunday. Competitors will choose their opponents and arrange for their starting times. Post entries will be accepted.

GENARO SCORES KNOCKOUT

San Jose, Cal., Feb. 14.—Frankie Genaro, former flyweight champion won by a technical knockout in four rounds of a scheduled six-round main event here yesterday evening, over young Speedy Dado, Los Angeles.

Dado refused to answer the bell for the fifth round, asserting he was having heart trouble. Genaro weighed 115, Dado 112.

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 14.—Bob Kruse, 200, Oswego, Ore., defeated Jack Kogut, 210, Des Moines, two straight in the main event of a wrestling show here yesterday evening.

Local Players For Rugby Tour Picked

Eight Victorians Will Visit California With All-star Aggregation

Selection of the eight Victoria rugby players to make the tour to California as members of the British Columbia all-star team was announced this morning by Bon Travis, local member of the selection committee. The players are: Backs, Pete Turgoose, J.B.A.A.; Paul Rowe, Fifth Brigade; Bobby Tye, Canadian Scottish; and Chuck McDonald, Navy; forwards, Bob Englewood, Fifth Brigade; Chris Usher, J.B.A.A.; Dudley King, Wanderers, and Dan Dowell, Fifth Brigade.

Reporting on the proposed Canadian tour of the Cambridge University fifteen, at yesterday evening's meeting of the Victoria Rugby Union, J. H. Ketchen, secretary of the British Columbia rugby board, stated that this year's tour has been cancelled. However, the Dominion body will make every effort to bring the club here in 1935, he stated.

The team will open its tour against University of San Francisco on March 1, and two days later will meet Stanford University. On March 7 the B.C. squad will meet the University of California, and March 10 will clash with a combined fifteen from the clubs in the Northern California English Rugby Union.

Owing to the fact that the civil servants' dance is being held on March 2, the telephone bridge for St. Joseph's Hospital, has been changed to March 9. Proceeds from the bridge will be given to the hospital for looking after injured rugby players during the season.

THISTLES PRACTICE

A workout of the Sanath Thistles football team will be held at the Athletic Park to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. All players are asked to attend.

Victoria West To Meet Thistles In Football Feature

Coast League Teams Hook Up At Heywood Avenue Saturday in Important Game

ESQUIMALT TO TACKLE CITY

One of the most important matches of the season will take place on Saturday afternoon in the first division of the Victoria Coast Football League when Victoria West and Saanich Thistles clash at the Heywood Avenue grounds, with F. Saunders as referee. The second senior game will bring together Esquimalt and Victoria City at Budden Park, with D. Swan in charge. In the second division the Wests and Thistles will play at lower Beacon Hill. T. Robb will be the referee. All matches will start at 3 o'clock.

Wests are setting the pace in the second half of the league race with a two-point margin over the Thistles. Victoria for the Wests Saturday will just about give them the second half championship and the right to meet Esquimalt, first-half winners, in the play-off for the city championship. Should the Thistles win a deadlock for first place will result, making a play-off necessary to decide the regular schedule likely. In their last league meeting the Wests turned in a victory and Saturday they hope to make it two in a row. It is probable the Wests will be strengthened Saturday by the return to the game of Scotty Robinson, their sharpshooting centre-forward, who has been laid up for several weeks with an injured ankle.

Vines Wins In Straight Sets

Indianapolis, Feb. 14.—Ellsworth Vines, tall Californian, used the power of his service to advantage yesterday evening to defeat Bill Tilden, 6-4, 6-4, 6-0, and even the count in their professional tennis exhibition tour. Each now has won nine engagements. Their next meet is in Louisville, Ky.

In a one-set match, Bruce Barnes, former Texas player, defeated Vincent Richards, 7-5. Vines and Richards teamed in doubles to win from Tilden and Barnes, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

VICTORIA HIGH WINS FOOTBALL

Defeats Mount View Representatives 5 to 0 in Inter-school Fixture

Scoring their second straight win the Victoria High School soccer eleven defeated the Mount View High School squad 5 to 0 in a match played yesterday on the Mount View grounds. A good brand of soccer was witnessed with the Fernwood boys pressing all the game.

In the first half the Victoria High had a slim margin on the play, although Mt. View were dangerous at all times. Shortly after the opening whistle R. Okell whipped a long kick from right field to the Mt. View goal mouth, and R. Thorburn headed it into the net. Mt. View pressed and threatened the High goal dangerously only to have Leason clear the ball with a long kick up to Tregellis, who dribbled through the Mt. View halves and sent a bullet shot into the corner of the goal. The first half ended with the V.H.S. two goals up.

VICTORIA PRESSES

The High School forced matters in the second half and caused the Mt. View back division plenty of worry. Ken Lawson accounted for the next goal when he took the ball twenty yards out and booted it past the post. Mt. View's woes, Kitching, Frost, Deer, Moore, Miles, Watt, Alexander, Poltano, Simpson and Rawlings.

The teams follow: High School—Leason, Renfrew, Gager, Barnes, Thorburn, Okell, Embry, Lawson, Okell, Tregellis and Gagehgan. Mount View—Vines, Kitching, Frost, Deer, Moore, Miles, Watt, Alexander, Poltano, Simpson and Rawlings.

Rangers, Detroit And Ottawa Take Major Ice Games

CAGE RULES ARE CHANGED

Important Alterations in Canadian Basketball Assn. Laws Announced

Vancouver, Feb. 14.—Important changes in the constitution of the Canadian Basketball Association and possibility of a general meeting in Toronto in November had been announced here today.

The announcement made by Walter Hardwick, Vancouver, secretary-treasurer of the association, was the result of a mail vote among the nineteen delegates throughout the Dominion.

In future the Dominion finals will be a three-out-of-five game series instead of the two-out-of-three games as previously. Semi-finals in both eastern and western Canada will be two-out-of-three games and the ordinary interprovincial playdowns will be two-game, total-point series.

Another amendment to the constitution gives the association power to investigate alleged violations of residence rule and define boundaries where such are obscure. The association will also have the right to permit a player living in a city which does not support a basketball team to play in another city which has a team.

It was also decided to set up a Dominion referees' board to take absolute control of basketball in Canada. In future any Canadian team of teams wishing to take part in any international competition must first secure permission from the C.B.A. This gives the association the power to name the team representing Canada in the women's world basketball championship and also at the Olympic Games in 1936 if the sport is included in the games.

In view of the fact the association has not held a general meeting since 1928 and that several problems have come up difficult of settlement by mail, it was decided to hold a meeting in Toronto in November provided the necessary financial arrangements can be made.

FRANK BOUCHER CUTS DOWN LEAD

Charlie Conacher's absence from the ice with injuries is bringing Frank Boucher of New York Rangers closer to the Toronto Maple Leafs who lead hockey's big seven. When Rangers beat Boston 6 to 4 yesterday evening Boucher got a goal and an assist to run his total to thirty-seven, three points less than Conacher. Cecil Dillon also got a goal and an assist to hold fifth place in the big seven, while Bun Cook joined in Rangers' scoring bee for a goal and an assist to obtain a last-place tie with Aurel Joliat, Canadiens.

Standings follow:

G.	A.	Pts.
Frank Boucher, Rangers	11	26
Joe Primeau, Toronto	10	24
Harvey Jackson, Toronto	17	14
Cecil Dillon, Rangers	7	22
Aurel Joliat, Canadiens	10	11
Bun Cook, Rangers	10	11

Young Peter Jackson In Early Knockout

Los Angeles, Feb. 14.—Young Peter Jackson, clouting Wilmington lightweight, found an easy foe in Lou Joliat, Cleveland, and knocked him out in the second round of a scheduled ten-round bout yesterday evening.

Joliat, who came in at 138 pounds, with a one-pound weight advantage, went down for a nine count in the first round from a savage right to the head, and was on the canvas again for a count of five when the bell saved him.

In a four-round special event, Henry Armstrong, 130 pounds, Los Angeles, won a decision over Benny Peiz, 131, Portland.

In a four-round special event, Henry Armstrong, 130 pounds, Los Angeles, won a decision over Benny Peiz, 131, Portland.

Los Angeles, Feb. 14.—Young Peter Jackson, clouting Wilmington lightweight, found an easy foe in Lou Joliat, Cleveland, and knocked him out in the second round of a scheduled ten-round bout yesterday evening.

Joliat, who came in at 138 pounds, with a one-pound weight advantage, went down for a nine count in the first round from a savage right to the head, and was on the canvas again for a count of five when the bell saved him.

Defeat Boston, Maroons and Americans, Respectively, in N.H.L. Clashes

Toronto Maple Leafs may have been all wrong when they sent young William "call me Bushy" Hollett down to Ottawa to study hockey defences under George Boucher, an old master at that sort of thing. Perhaps they should have shipped him away with directions labelled, "develop as a left wing."

For the Bushy, who takes over the nickname Harvey Jackson is dropping as he moves along toward the veteran stage, stepped out as a forward yesterday evening and drilled two pucks past Roy Worters to give Ottawa a 3 to 2 win over the ambitious New York Americans.

Hollett got his chance to move up to the line when Bill Touhey reported ill and Boucher needed a left winger to work with Nick Wasie and Carl Voss. The youngster, who believes he will step into the void Frank Clancy or Happy Day will leave some day on Leafs' lineup, promptly outshone the regular forwards.

His goal in the first period, on a pass from Voss, was taken by another in the second with Wasie's help, enough to give Senators the edge and label him the most effective man on Ottawa ice yesterday evening.

McVEIGH EFFECTIVE
Jerry Shannon scored Ottawa's other goal and Rabbit McVeigh and Deed Klein counted for the Americans. McVeigh incidentally, furthered his claims for the Lady Byng Trophy, playing effective hockey without a penalty.

Senators' win can't mean a thing to them as far as playoff chances are concerned but it spoiled an opportunity Amerks had to creep up on even terms with the idle Montreal Canadiens. None of the three National Hockey League games yesterday evening, in fact, changed the standing.

Wins by New York Rangers and Detroit left them still tied for United States division leadership.

Red Wings beat Maroons 6 to 1 while Les Patrick's men were taking Bruins 6 to 4 in Boston. Maroons had figured on a win to increase their four-point margin over Canadiens but they were away below the form they have shown lately and made any pickings in the fast-moving Detroiters.

Red Wings took everything Maroons had in the way of attack, backchecked them to a standstill, and after scoring twice in the first period, showered in the third frame. They were as good as Maroons were bad as they scored their first league victory in Montreal since January 6, 1933.

Cougar's "Welland" ace centre, was the individual star of a brilliant attack, scoring two goals. Teddy Graham, Johnny Sorrell, Lloyd Ross, and four Goodfellow got the others. Young Wally Kilrea scored Maroons' only counter in a first-period drive.

Bruins were two goals up at one stage of the wide-open Boston affair, but the New Yorkers outlasted them. After Murray Murdoch had started the scoring in the first period and Marty Boucher had tied it up, Peak Goodfellow, scoring his first goal of the year, and Joe Lamb put the Bostonians well in the lead in the second.

Before the middle frame was over, however, Bill Cook and Danny Cox, recently discarded by Ottawa, brought the New Yorkers back on even terms. Miles Lane's goal gave Bruins the lead again early in the third before Frank Boucher, Bun Cook and Cecil Dillon ended up giving Rangers all the edge they needed.

Earl Selbert, Ranger defenceman, was given a good part of the credit for the New York win. Three of his rubies ended up in goals when he assisted Cox, Boucher and Bun Cook.

Calgary Star Regains Lead in Northwestern Hockey League With 32 Points

Calgary, Feb. 14.—Calgary Tigers' coach and star centre ice performer, Dutch Gainor, climbed back into top position of the Northwestern Hockey League's point-scoring during last week, raising his total to thirty-two by garnering a flock of points in two games against Seattle Sea Hawks.

Gainor caught up with Clint Smith, Vancouver Lions, and went right on to take the lead of three points after trailing by a like number himself last week. Art Gagne, Edmonton Eskimos, is right on Smith's heels, trailing by a single point. Gainor's thirty-two points are made up of seventeen goals and fifteen assists.

Smith leads the goal-scorers with nineteen markers and has added ten assists. Gagne has fourteen goals and the same number of assists for twenty-eight points. Gainor has been the leading playmaker, his sixteen assists putting him one ahead of Gagne and Jimmy Evans, Portland Buckaroos.

EVANS IS FOURTH
Evans holds fourth position, six points behind Gagne, with 8-14-22. Charlie Smith and Jimmy Arnett, both Vancouver Lions, follow closely behind the Portland star with 16-5-21 and 11-9-20 respectively. Arnett is the first defenceman this year to have twenty points to his credit.

Although he did not have a single penalty dealt him last week, Art Townsend, Eskimo defenceman, still heads the penalty parade with sixty-four minutes on the sidelines. His defence mate, Ernie Kenny, and Tony Hemminger, Seattle, have each spent fifty-four minutes in the cooler.

San Francisco, Feb. 14.—In a wrestling bout crammed full of action George Wilson, 200, former University of Washington halfback, defeated Ivan MacDonald, 210, Russian, in two falls out of three here tonight.

Wilson used a flying tackle to throw MacDonald in seven and one-half minutes for the first fall. A body press won MacDonald the second tumble in eight and one-half minutes. The third and deciding fall went to Wilson in one minute, on a back body slam.

Steve Hamas Gives Smart Performance To Beat Schmeling

Outboxes German for Twelve of Fifteen Rounds to Lift Decision

NO KNOCKDOWNS ARE WITNESSED

Philadelphia, Feb. 14.—The comeback campaign of dogged Max Schmeling, once heavyweight champion of the world, crumbled yesterday evening before the sieging fists of young Steve Hamas, more famous as a football player than a prize-fighter, in another stunning ring upset.

Before a crowd of 16,000 that jammed Convention Hall as a fight palmer hasn't been jammed in Philadelphia since Gene Tunney best Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight title in the Sequoyan stadium, Hamas battered the stubborn Teuton for the greater part of twelve rounds, slashed his life eyebrow open in the ninth, and easily won the unanimous decision of Referee "Spud" Murphy and two judges.

Despite the width of his margin and the seriousness of a gash, almost two inches long, in Schmeling's left eyebrow, Hamas had to stave off a terrific twelfth round drive of the German to save himself from being battered to the floor.

There were no knockdowns, but the duel wound up in a fever of punching that had the capacity crowd roaring wildly. Beaten so badly that only a knockout could turn the tide, Schmeling rallied near the close of the eleventh, brought a stream of blood from Hamas's nose with the final punch of the round, a right-hand smash to the face, and then hammered the former Penn state fullback until he was weak and wobbly in the final session.

Entering the ring a 3 to 1 favorite, the dark-browed German, who was knocked out by Max Baer in the outstanding upset of last summer's outdoor season, lashed all his old fire and punching power in the first round. He moved slowly, hesitantly, and he had no defence for the stream of left jabs chunky Hamas, boxing prettily despite his bandaged and bleeding strained tendon in his right leg, chugged steadily and solidly into Schmeling's head.

Only once in the first three rounds, as he missed repeatedly with both hands, did Schmeling land a telling drive, a right-hand smash to the jaw in the second round.

HAMAS CLEVER
Hamas shook off the punch that laid heavyweights such as Johnny Risko and Bill Stribling years ago, and fought easily and coolly through the first six rounds, taking every advantage of the German's clumsiness, his wildness and lack of defence.

Always a slow starter, Schmeling came on with the seventh round, and but for the right-hand smash that ripped his eyebrow wide open in the ninth, might have bled freely enough to win. The smothering of the more spent of the two, rallying freely from the nose, while Schmeling's left eye was almost closed and his face a crimson smear.

The exciting rally started in the seventh when Schmeling's right hand, lashing out with much of its old power, but far less frequently, rocked Hamas, and Steve came back with a left hook offensive that had the German reeling.

BLOOD FLOWS FREELY
The tide shifted suddenly in the ninth. Getting steadily better, Schmeling ducked and slipped into a thundering right that split the eyebrow and in a few seconds both were crimson to the waist. Still grinning as Hamas hammered him relentlessly, Schmeling fought on doggedly, but in the minute's rest after the ninth, tenth and eleventh rounds, it took a head-shaking conference of a doctor and Referee Murphy to decide that he could be allowed to continue.

They let him come out, however, and in the eleventh, although almost blinded, the former champion lashed out again with two rights that rocked Hamas on his tired legs. Another right, almost at the bell, smashed Hamas's nose. Although both were dogged in the twelfth, Schmeling staged his final rally, staggering Hamas at least twice with rights to the chin.

The Associated Press score card gave the former champion but three rounds, the second, fourth and twelfth. Hamas won all the remaining nine.

Schmeling weighed 189 pounds, four less than the youngster from Passaic, N.J., whose greatest victory up to tonight had been a two-round knockout in a series with Tommy Lougan, during which he lost two decisions.

Despite the defeat, Schmeling said that he intended to continue his comeback campaign, and that he would sail from New York Saturday to box Paulino Uzcudun in Barcelona, in April.

WILLIE LOGAN ICE CHAMPION
Captures Canadian Indoor Skating Title; Kit Klein Women's Winner

St. John, N.B., Feb. 14.—Easily assuming the Canadian crown for indoor speed skating, Willie Logan, St. John, showed his heels to other "blade artists" yesterday evening, and captured the national meet by a wide margin.

First place in four out of five events run off Monday night and yesterday evening, gave Logan 120 points, and second place in the other final made his total 140. His nearest rival, Les Freisinger, Chicago, could not accumulate more than 70, and Eddie Wedge, Detroit, held down third place with 90. Thirty points put Clem O'Connor, St. John, Maritime champion, fourth in the standing.

Women's senior honors, however, went to the United States' contestant, Kit Klein, Buffalo. She scored out of Lella Brooks, Toronto, by ten points, having acquired 80, and Sybil Beattie, St. John, a former champion, ran third with 30.

Wheat Sales Light
In Late Stages Of Winnipeg Exchange

Winnipeg, Feb. 14.—Wheat prices held on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day with only a minimum of interest displayed. The market closed unchanged.

A little speculative buying near the finish had a firming effect. Selling was extremely light in the late stages. May wheat finished at 67½ with July at 69½ cents.

Trading showed little improvement over Tuesday. Scattered offerings trickled into the pit, but selling was sufficient to keep values fractionally lower most of the day.

In the closing stages, however, the market showed a slight tendency to firm up. Export sales were a little better than for the past two days.

Intermarket operations were at a standstill. Chicago wheat had a similar trend to Winnipeg, while Liverpool quotations were off ½ to ¾ at the close.

Cash grains were dull. Coarse grain prices softened in sympathy with wheat.

Associated Press

Chicago, Feb. 14.—Influenced by tumbles of prices in the cotton market, lower quotations on grains formed the rule most of the time to-day. Losses, however, were more than overcome by late rallies, when cotton showed gains.

Wheat closed firm, unchanged to ½. Higher, corn unchanged to ½, oats at ½ decline to an equal advance, and provisions unchanged to 6 cents down.

A Mystery Novel

By K. S. DAIGER

(Copyright by Macrae-Smith Company)

It had almost been completed without disclosing any new evidence, when Dr. Warner, doubting thinking along the line he had suggested to me, opened the mouth and began an examination of the interior of the throat.

There, caught into the teeth and even under the tongue itself, were a number of little silk threads—yellow silk threads!

"Gagged!" cried Dr. Warner and Dr. Mason in the same breath. "Gagged with the tassel of the silk cord which was used to hang her to the chandelier!"

Then the cord itself was rushed over from headquarters, and there were its tassel, very much bedraggled so that it was easy to see that it had indeed been crammed into the unfortunate girl's mouth and used as a gag.

"She was strangled by this tassel first—suffocated. It was probably wedged well down into the throat and held in place by a bond of some nature. Her heart, in a weakened condition could not stand the strain. And then the murderer strung her up to the chandelier to hide his crime. This is certainly a case of murder, coroner."

And murder it was!

A jury was hastily impelled a few minutes later from among the Towson citizens; and the newsmen were shouting their extra on every street corner only an hour later.

For the coroner's jury found that "Sonia Paige had met her death by strangulation at the hand of a person or persons unknown."

The Paige suicide had ended.

The Great Paige Murder Case had just begun.

CHAPTER VIII

I was still at my desk late that night when my telephone rang. It was Inspector Anderson and I could tell from his voice that he was not a little bit excited.

"How about it, Kay?" he commenced with a chuckle. "Looks as if Carroll doesn't like the real thing this time, doesn't it?"

"Any developments?" I asked eagerly.

"Yes—that's why I called you. Thought you would like to hear the latest. The commissioner has received a request for assistance from my department."

"Really?"

"Yes. And you might say that while I have assigned Kurtz and Mahler to the job I'm going to assume active charge myself."

"And?" I began, for all at once a scheme had flashed through my mind. "I'm not trying to recall any past favors from this case, but you've always promised to let me listen in on some really good case. Don't you think you could let me help you with this murder?"

"With you? Why by step by step? It's out with you from the police angle instead of conducting an independent investigation by myself? That is, if I can get permission from the chief to do it that way. Anyway, I have two weeks' vacation coming to me—I could use that."

"I don't know," answered Anderson, somewhat dubiously. "Much as I would like to have you, it strikes me as being somewhat unethical. The other papers would begin to howl right away."

"I doubt it," I argued. "My position is somewhat unusual. After all, I'm not exactly on the staff of this sheet even though my office is here. I'm really an independent investigator for our whole chain of papers. As long as I only print what you hand out to the papers, I can't see where anybody has a kick coming."

"Of course, I'd like to," repeated the inspector. "I'd enjoy your assistance as well as the fact that I'd like to do anything you ask me. I haven't forgotten old times—not by a long shot. Talk it over with your people and see what their reaction is. I'll have to take it up with the commissioner, too. If you can make arrangements, be up at the Paige house the very first thing in the morning. But remember that if I let you in on the case, that will have to be absolutely confidential."

I hastened into Reynolds's office. The managing editor, despite the lateness of the hour, was still there.

"Anything new?" he asked.

"Yep. Anderson just phoned me. The Baltimore police department has been called in, but I anticipated that. Bob, I want you to do something for me. I'd like to work on this case with Anderson from the beginning—not as a reporter but as a private investigator. 'Leave the paper!' queried Reynolds in surprise.

"Not exactly. Of course, I'll cover all the actual news that is handed out for publication. But if I work independently with Anderson, I suppose there'll be a whole lot that can't be published, at this time anyhow. Naturally my relations with him would have to be confidential."

I could see that Reynolds didn't take kindly to the idea at all.

"What would you gain by that?" he objected.

"I could see that Reynolds didn't take kindly to the idea at all."

"I've got more than one enemy by doing that very thing," I pointed out. "We bitterly antagonized the Hagerstown police by working independently on the Bently murder. Half the time we dig up facts and print them and tip the crooks off. We actually hamper the detectives in their work. In this case, it would be a corking good idea to throw ourselves in with the police instead of running counter with them."

"You mean we would confine ourselves entirely to what the department gives us?"

"Oh, not at all. We can offer a reward of a thousand dollars for any information and, of course, we're allowed to work on any tips that may bring in. And I suggest that we get busy on the cable and wire London for a complete history of Mrs. Paige. The answer may lie over there. A thousand dollar reward will make the London press stir itself."

"What I do mean," I continued warmly, is that you allow me complete freedom and let me work with Anderson. I'll be on the ground floor—so to say—give you corking good stories about such facts as the police want us to carry. And if the real story breaks—oh, boy!"

Reynolds shook his head disapprovingly. "Anderson would never consent to it," he argued.

"He would if he were sure that I was working in an unofficial capacity. I don't imagine for a minute that he's going to take me into his innermost confidence and divulge all his theories and plans. But he will let me hear the examination of the witnesses and so on."

"You can hear all those anyhow," pointed out Reynolds. "Chances are

Uncle Wiggily's Lucky Valentine

(By HOWARD R. GARIS)

"What have you caught?" asked Mr. Twistytail, the fat pig gentleman, of Uncle Wiggily.

"I don't know for sure, but I hope it's a silver fish," answered the rabbit gentleman.

He was dipping his long-handled net through a hole in the ice on the Duck Pond Ocean, hoping to catch a fish that would make company for him, his lonesome gold fish at home in the hollow stump bungalow.

"Anyhow, it's very heavy, whatever I have caught," said Mr. Longears, digging and delving in the mud on the bottom of the pond. For with the long handle on his net, Uncle Wiggily was able to reach away down to the bottom of the Duck Pond Ocean.

All of a sudden Mr. Twistytail began to laugh again. "Ha! Ha! Ha!"

"What are you laughing at?" asked Uncle Wiggily, looking up from where he had his eyes turned toward the hole in the ice.

"I am laughing to think how funny it would be," grunted the pig. "If you should happen to net up a valentine."

"A valentine?" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "What do you mean about a valentine?"

"Oh, bless my ear of corn!" cried the fat pig. "Didn't you know this was Valentine Day?"

"Whew!" whistled Uncle Wiggily. "I had forgotten all about it."

"Don't tell me you haven't sent your wife and Nurse Jane a valentine!" went on the pig.

"I must tell you, because it is true," spoke Mr. Longears, sadly. "but I haven't sent a single valentine. I forgot all about it!"

"Dear me! That is very sad," grunted Mr. Twistytail. "Your wife and Nurse Jane will feel very unhappy if they don't get a valentine."

"I know they will," spoke the rabbit gentleman, still digging and delving in the mud through the ice hole with his net. "Always before this time I have sent them valentines. But this time I forgot!"

"Well, all is not lost yet," grunted the fat pig. "You may net up something from the bottom of the pond that will be a valentine—perhaps two valentines—and you can make one home to your wife and one to Nurse Jane."

"I would like to do that," said Uncle Wiggily. "For if I don't, I must stop at a store on my way home and buy each of them a valentine. But all I expect to get up out of this hole in the ice is a silver fish to put in the bowl to be company for my gold fish, Sim."

"Well, pull up the net and let's see what you have," said the pig.

And when Uncle Wiggily had done this and the black mud and water had run out through the meshes in the wire net, there was a fine, big mud turtle.

"Look! Look!" squealed Mr. Twistytail. "Look what you've caught!"

"Not a silver fish," said the rabbit. "No," agreed the pig. "But it is very lucky just the same. You can give the mud turtle to Nurse Jane for a valentine."

"So I can," said the rabbit. "Fine."

"What's that you called me," grumbled the mud turtle, who had been taking his winter sleep deep in the mud on the bottom of the pond.

"I said you would make a fine valentine," grunted Mr. Twistytail.

"Oh! I thought you said this was spring time," said the turtle in a slow and sleepy voice. "Well, I don't mind being a valentine."

So Uncle Wiggily washed the mud from the turtle and put it in his overcoat pocket. Then the bunny gentleman dipped his net in the water again. Soon he caught something else. "This time it was a big green frog, who, like the turtle, had been asleep in the mud for the winter."

"A valentine for your wife!" squealed the fat pig. "This is your lucky day, Wiggily!"

"It seems so," spoke the rabbit gentleman as he put the frog, now half awake, into his other overcoat pocket. "But I would like to catch a silver fish to keep Sim, my gold fish, company."

"Try again," grunted the pig.

And when Uncle Wiggily dipped his net in the third time he caught a fine silver fish which he put in the tin can he had brought with him. His wife's plate, and were those animal ladies surprised at their valentines? I'll say they were! But everybody laughed so it was all right. And the fountain pen isn't too proud to speak to the poor lead pencil when they go to the movies. I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily finding something.
